WORLD NEAR PEACE GOAL

Mr. Carnegie Firm in Belief That War Will Soon Be Unknown.

IRONMASTER IN NOTABLE ADDRESS

Predicts Glory for Wilson in Dealing With Question of World Peace.

St. Louis, May 1.—Andrew Carnegie told the National Peace Congress assembled here today why he believed the nations soon would reach the goal of peace, and by what road they would travel. He described the cost of war and war-like preparation, and explained his confidence that the United States never need fear foreign invasion. President Wilson and his administration, he predicted, would gain immortal glory by dealing successfully with the question of world peace.

The goal, said Mr. Carnegie, is almost attained. "If a man wished to select the safest life possible, the one freest from all danger of violent death, let him enter our army and navy. There is not a workman attending machinery or erecting buildings, nor a railway train employe or a policeman—the soldier of civilization, whose duty is never to attack but always to protect—not one but runs far greater risk of sudden injury or death than the soldier or marine of our country does today. There is little danger of any of these ever seeing war, thank God! They will only have to parade."

The speaker pictured a possible foreign invasion as follows: "British authorities consider it might be possible for an enemy to land as many as one hundred and seventy thousand men upon their island in three weeks, and they believe they have provided a force sufficient to deal with this number. We could cope with seven times this number of invaders, if we could only induce them to accept our invitation to march far enough inland and partake of our hospitality until they were rested and gave us notice they were ready to begin operations. We would probably conquer without firing a shot. Thousands might decide to stay in the great west and work and save until they could buy a farm. We might turn invaders into citizens."

"I believe in the League of Peace idea, the formation of an International Police, never for aggression, always for protection, if needed, of the peace of the civilized world. This requires only the agreement of a few of the leading

"NO" IS REPLY TO TRAINMEN

Eastern Railroads Decline to Grant Request for Wage Advance.

CALL PRESENT RATES LIBERAL

Set Forth Reasons for Decision in Extended Statement.

New York, May 1.—The conference of managers of eastern railroads declined today to grant the requests made by their conductors and trainmen for higher wages. The committee in a reply sent to the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen says that the present rate of wages are liberal and in many cases excessive and that the request for an increase is declined "In the interest of owners of railroad securities in the interests of all railroad employes—in the interests of the public as a whole."

"The wages and working conditions which you request," says the reply, "would increase the pay of the 100,000 conductors and trainmen of the railroads in the eastern district by approximately $17,000,000 or 20 per cent. per annum. The increase would be equivalent to placing on these properties a lien of $425,000,000 of 4 per cent. securities which would have preference over first mortgage bonds.

HALF SCORE HURT AS TRAINS CRASH

Big 4 Freight Fails to Reach Siding Ahead of Passenger

NEAR MIDDLETOWN, O.

Middletown, Ohio, May 1.—Two men were probably fatally injured and nine other persons more or less seriously hurt when Big Four passenger train No. 25 ran head on into a freight train a few miles north of this city early today. The probably fatally injured are:

Hedge Hitchcock, fireman of passenger train, Columbus, Ohio; internally injured, and Louis Gumbinner, of New York, concussion of the brain and multiple bruises.

The passenger train, southbound, was two hours late at the time of the accident. The crew of the freight train claim to have orders to take a siding a few rods north of here to let the passenger train pass. They failed to reach the siding, however, before the other train bore down upon them. The locomotives telescoped each other and the tender of the passenger train was pushed through the baggage coach.

All the other passenger coaches were derailed, but did not overturn.

NOBODY SEEMS TO WANT A $4,000 CHICAGO JOB.

Chicago, May 1.—The city has a $4,000 a year job which nobody seems to care for. On April 22 the civil service commission advertised an examination for assistant city electrician, but no application has been filed up to today. The commission is considering waiving local residence in order to get a suitable man for the place.

Senator E. A. Birdsall of California, is the man who started all this agitation against the Japanese which has developed into an international affair. Birdsall is a great believer in America for the Americans and his belief has taken the form of a bill against aliens, and by aliens he is hitting especially at the Japanese. Birdsall is the heavyweight of the California senate, being probably its biggest man, physically

DEMOCRATS TAKE KICKS TO WILSON

Six Western Senators in Protest on Tariff Measure.

DEBATE PLODS ALONG

Washington, May 1.—Six democratic western senators today carried their protests against the tariff bill to President Wilson.

Senators Newlands, Chamberlain, Lane, Thompson, Shafroth and Walsh were the only ones who participated in the conference, although an invitation was extended to all democratic senators from inter-mountain states.

While a number of phases of the tariff bill was discussed the sugar and wool schedules were principally under consideration. Three hours were given by the president for the conference, each of the senators explaining his views at length.

Big Items in Sight.

The wood schedule, involving the fight of the anti-free lumber advocates, was the target of attack when the house today resumed debate on the tariff bill. Democratic leaders, however, expected to make great progress in the reading of the bill for amendment by the conclusion of tonight's session.

The agricultural schedule, involving the contentions of the minority that the majority has put almost everything that the farmer holds dear on the free list; the wool section, which will precipitate the struggle of the opposition to free raw wool, and the income tax, with its graduated system that is expected to bring $100,000,000 into the treasury coffers annually, were in sight when the democratic leaders reviewed the situation as the discussion began today. The leaders were confident, however, that there would be no disturbance of the caucus-approved bill and the minority was wearying of the steady fight with scores of constantly rejected amendments.

TEMPERATURE MOUNTS TO RECORD HEIGHT.

The hottest weather of the year was noted in Fort Wayne today when the thermometer in the government weather bureau mounted past the previous record of 78 degrees about noon and climbed still higher until the mercury passed the 80 mark. W. S. Palmer, local forecaster, says there is nothing but fair weather in sight. This is the warmest day since the last week in April when for the three consecutive days the temperature reached as high as 78 degrees.

SEEK FREIGHT RATE ADVANCE

Eastern Roads Would Put 5 Per Cent. Raise on All Classes.

GO TO COMMISSION

New York, May 1.—The railroads of the eastern territory having discussed the freight rate problem have decided to ask the interstate commerce commission to allow a 5 per cent increase on freight of all character. This was made known today in a statement issued by President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio.

The carriers hope to obtain the consent of the commission for an advance of 5 per cent on freight of all character, according to the statement issued by President Willard. It is pointed out that such an advance, if granted, will create little if any disturbance in commercial conditions. It is argued that this plan is fairer than an advance in the so-called class rates and in some of the commodity rates, as was attempted by the railroads in 1910 and which the commission overruled.

"The railway executives," continues the statement, "feel that the changed conditions which have come about have so narrowed the margin between income and outgo that a 10 per cent increase of all freight tariffs would be justified. They recognize, however, the importance of obtaining the necessary revenue in such a way as to cause the least possible disturbance of commercial conditions and on that account feel that it would be better to ask for an increase of 5 per cent only at this time."

Mr. Willard and Presidents Rea of the Pennsylvania and Brown of the New York Central have been appointed a committee to take up the question with the commission.

DEFY BOSSES TO SEE BALL GAME

Corrugated Paper Employes Simply Had to See the Opener.

150 DROP THEIR WORK

Among the spectators at the ball game this afternoon are about 150 employes of the Corrugated Paper company, who went there under protest of the management of the factory. This morning the employes sent a committee to the manager to ask that the shop be closed this afternoon in order that they could attend the ball game. The shop is behind its orders and the manager told the committee that he could not allow any one to be absent on account of the game.

The committee returned and reported to the employes, who almost unanimously declared they would go to the game. Over half of the force failed to show up for work at 1 o'clock and when those who did appear there learned this fact, they too, turned about and returned home to get ready for the game. This big party leaving the Corrugated works shortly after 1 o'clock gave rise to the rumor that a strike had occurred. Stephen D. Bond, the treasurer of the company, said in reply to an inquiry:

"There is no strike on at this establishment. The employes—both men and women—asked permission to lay off this afternoon for the purpose of attending the ball game. The shop is over crowded with work and a half-day's suspension of operation would put us further behind and so we stated to the employes and refused to grant their request. They said they would go to the ball game anyway, and they did. That is the situation. There is no strike nor do wages figure in the matter."

All will probably be on duty again tomorrow morning.

NO EVIDENCE OF FRAUD.

Chicago, May 1.—Having given no evidence indicating fraud in the purchase of $1,000,000 worth of voting machines by this city, the April grand jury adjourned without making any recommendation in the matter.

CADDIE GETS HIGHBALLS MIXED WITH GOLF BALLS.

Wilmington, Del., May 1.—Rodney Warren, a 12-year-old caddie, who heard players at the Wilmington Country club discussing "highballs" yesterday, gathered the idea that the drink was in some way connected with the golf ball. He cut open one of the balls and found it filled with a liquid which he drank. A stomach pump saved his life. The doctor found the liquid in the ball was highly impregnated with arsenic.

WORKMEN GO OUT IN MANY CITIES

2,500 Department Store Employes in Buffalo Launch Strike.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 1.—Over 2,500 department store employes, involving every store of the kind in the city, went on strike this morning for increased wages and shorter hours. Employes of hardware and five and ten-cent stores participated in the strike.

The demand is for a minimum wage of $8 for women clerks and $15 for men clerks, with a minimum for boys of $8 and for drivers and chauffeurs of $18 per week. The employes also demand an eight-hour work day, Saturday half holiday with full pay in June, July, August and September, and the closing of the stores at 5 o'clock each evening. The present average weekly pay for girl clerks is said to be only $5.

Pickets were placed at the entrance of all the stores this morning. The strike vote taken last night was practically unanimous and was closely observed this morning. The delivery system was completely tied up.

New York, May 1.—Mounted police, goaded by volleys of stones thrown by 700 striking laborers on the Long Island railroad, in the borough of Queens, today drew their revolvers and fired, wounding two men, one of them seriously.

WOMAN SLAYS IN SALOON AT GARY

Clarence Murphy is Killed by Bullet Intended for His Father.

SHE SOUGHT REVENGE

Chicago, May 1.—Clarence Murphy, 22 years old, son of a Gary, Ind., saloonkeeper, was shot and instantly killed today in his father's place of business when he attempted to eject Mrs. Grace Smith, 35 years old. Mrs. Smith fled in an automobile to the home of a sister in Chicago, where later she was arrested.

Arthur Greyson, 37 years old, was with the woman when she was taken into custody. They were taken back to Gary to be held until the inquest has been concluded.

The shooting followed a quarrel between Mrs. Smith and Henry Murphy, proprietor of the saloon. Clarence Murphy ordered Mrs. Smith out of the place and when he stepped toward her to enforce the command she drew a revolver from the folds of her dress and fired five shots, one of the cartridges taking effect in his heart.

"I meant to shoot old man Murphy and got his son," Mrs. Smith told the police. "He treated me cruelly and I wanted to get revenge."

GOES BACK TO RENEW FIGHT

President is Campaigning for Reform Laws in Home State.

WILL PLEAD WITH NEW JERSEY VOTERS

Wages Battle for Jury Reform in Coming Legislative Session.

Washington, May 1.—President Wilson turned toward New Jersey today for the first bit of campaigning since preelection days. He prepared to leave here at 3 p. m. for a two days' speaking trip in his home state to appeal to the people to bring pressure upon democratic members of the state legislature to pass a jury reform bill as well as a measure calling a constitutional convention.

These two proposals, written in the democratic state platform by Mr. Wilson himself while governor, failed of passage after a hard fight in the recent session of the legislature and the efforts of Mr. Wilson, co-operating with Acting Governor Fielder, are directed toward accomplishing the reforms in the extra session of the legislature to be convened within a week. Reports have come to the white house from Wilson supporters that the opponents of jury reform had set themselves firmly against permitting the power to draw juries to be taken from the hands of the sheriffs. The president plans to return to the white house Saturday morning.

New Nominations.

E. K. Campbell, of Birmingham, Ala., for many years political manager for Representative Oscar Underwood, has been selected by President Wilson for a judge in the United States court of claims. His nomination was expected to go to the senate today.

The selection of Mr. Campbell for the judgeship probably means the elevation of Judge Charles B. Howey, of Oxford, Miss., to be chief justice of the court of claims. His nomination also was said to be scheduled for today.

The nominations made by President Wilson today included the following:

Commissioner of corporations, Jos. E. Davies, of Wisconsin.

Assistant comptroller of the treasury, Walter W. Warwick, of Ohio.

Surveyor of customs for port of Louisville, Ky., Warner S. Kinkaid.

Imagined Domestic Woes.

Evading the white house guard, Alfred L. Wood, a painter, made his way into the main corridor of the white house with the avowed determination of seeing President Wilson concerning the domestic difficulties which had followed his amiginary marriage during the Taft regime in the east room of the historic structure. Wood today is in the asylum hospital pending an investigation as to his sanity.

Wood's escapade did not become known until today. He was discovered by Sergeant McQuaid, in command of

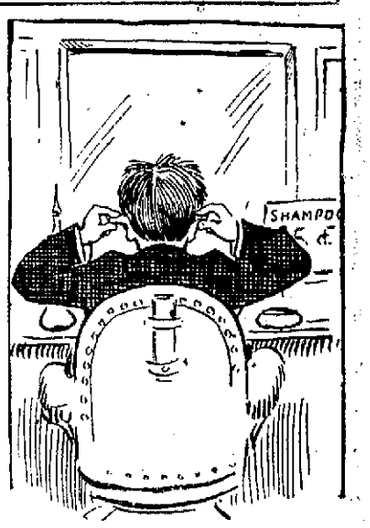
NINTH CHILD GETS WATCH ON ATTAINING MAJORITY.

Samuel Sweet Geake, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Geake, today attained his 21st birthday and was presented a handsome gold watch by his father in honor of the occasion. In this connection it is interesting to note that the young man is the ninth child of the Geake family to be similarly remembered, each of five sons and four daughters having been presented a watch by Mr. Geake on the day they became 21 years of age. "Sam is the last one," said the father today, "and I am now out of the watch business."

Helping the Barber



Throughout the ordeal.

VINCENT SHEA always knew that Charley Stults is "some kidder," but the other day he forgot about it. Mr. Shea, who is a lineman with the traction company, rushed into the Harry Mann barber shop the other day and announced in no uncertain terms that he wanted his hair cut. He dashed into Mr. Stults' chair and added, by way of emphatic verbal postscript, that he wanted the aforesaid hair cut in a hurry.

"Give it to me quick, Charley," said he. "I'll be a Dutch uncle to you if you'll hustle me out of here as quick as you can."

"All right," said Charley, as he hustled his mowing apparatus together and combed the hair down preparatory to roughing it up again, "but you'll have to do all you can to help."

"You bet I will. What'll I do?"

"You'll have to take hold of your ears and hold 'em down, so I can cut your hair on the sides of your head with both hands instead of having to hold the ear down with one hand while I trim with the other."

"How's this?" asked Charley, grasping each auricular appendage and holding it down tight.

"Fine," responded Charley; but it was noticed that he suffered a choking spell and had to go out into the fresh air for a minute before he could go on with the process. He came in, however, and Vincent held his ears down throughout the entire ordeal. As the latter looked into the glass near the close of the work he caught an expression of suppressed amusement on the face of every man in the shop, and then woke up to the fact that he had been stung.

"I had somehow gotten to believe," observed the barber, "that all of the real easy marks were passing away, but we have some of them still with us, it would seem."

"NO" IS REPLY TO TRAINMEN

Public Interests Paramount.

"If the railroads are forced to pay extravagant wages to men in train service, the burden must fall on the public. You will readily see therefore why, in considering your demands, we hold the public interest paramount.

"Already the traffic of a growing country has overtaxed the existing facilities, and the heavy burdens incurred through ill advised legislation, such as extra crew bills for which the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is alone responsible have forced on the railroads and consequently on the public, needless expenditures of millions of dollars annually. All of these facilities which prudent foresight demands, and which the interests of teh public requires.

Demand is Critized.

"In making demands for extravagant wages—wages entirely out of accord with the railroad's obligations as a whole—railway employes apparently act on the assumption that a strike that would tie up traffic would never be permitted by the public. They seem to think that if a strike is to be avoided the railroads must give way—that the public will force them to give way—believing that arbitration must take place and that in the end the splitting of differences between what they demand and the wages they receive will result in their favor. In other words the employes have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

The submission of the railroads' answer today followed a series of conferences between the committees of managers and a committee of the conductors' and trainmen's organizations. Upon its receipt the conductors' and trainmen's committee went into conference to consider what further action would be taken.

in the main and an occasional sparkle of wit with clashes between individual members has lessened the monotony of debate over dry figures.

Representative Sims, of Tennessee, was questioning the reason for the duty on motorcycles and asked if the committee regarded them as luxuries or necessities.

"My boy has two of them," answered Lender Underwood, "and I would call them nuisances."

Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, called them "these little choo choo affairs that are a cross between the bicycle and the automobile."

Just before taking up the wood schedule the last paragraph of the metal schedule was reverted to on a late amendment submitted by Representative Greene, of Massachusetts, who said he was acting at the request of democrats in his district. Greene, a republican, declared that jewelers and jewelry workmen in his district, who said they voted for President Wilson, had protested against the Underwood rate of 25 per cent on metals partly composed of platinum, silver or gold or plaited. He said he had received a letter from 104 jewelers, who claimed to be democrats, another from the North Attleboro democratic town committee, and one from the democratic committee of another town in his district protesting against the Underwood rate and urging restoration of the Payne rates. An amendment to restore them was voted down.

Works Without a Hitch.

With the legislative machinery running smoothly and rapidly, the house today reached the first of the big rough places in the democratic tariff bill, the sugar schedule.

Representative Underwood, at the throttle, drove the democratic majority steadily ahead, disposing of the last paragraph of the metal schedule and plowing through the lumber and wood schedule without allowing an amendment.

A fight to restore to the dutiable list shingles, which the bill placed on the free list, provoked a wealth of oratory particularly from the representatives of the north Pacific coast states. They made much of the oriental labor troubles on the coast, citing the present anti-Japanese agitation in California. When the sugar schedule was reached it became apparent that more oratory, in large volume, was clamoring to be let loose and Representative Underwood, following his declaration that he intended to put on the screws, secured an agreement to allow two hours' debate on the sugar schedule and all amendments offered to it. Representative Broussard, of Louisiana, representing the democrats who oppose the free sugar provision of the bill, joined the republicans in the futile battle to alter the committee rates.

Representative Fordney, who introduced an amendment providing for the Payne rates on sugar, declared that throughout the tariff hearings and even in the special sugar trust investigation a year ago, no person appeared interested in a lower rate on sugar and asked for free sugar, except importers and manufacturers of refined sugar from imported raw sugar. "If sugar goes on the free list," he said, "the domestic cane industry must die and the beet sugar industry either will be crushed or greatly injured. The public will be at the mercy of the American Sugar Refining company, as Arbuckle brothers and August Spreckles are planning a merger of the American and the Federal Sugar Refining company. With August Spreckles at the head of the industry in New York and his brother, Rudolph Spreckles, on the Pacific coast, the industry will perish."

day for more pay, refused to disperse and stoned a number of their fellow workmen who stuck to their jobs.

SHAKE FISTS AS THEY PASS.

Strikers Join in Demonstration at Paterson, N. J.

Paterson, N. J., May 1.—Six thousand workers, the majority of them striking employes of the silk mills, paraded behind six bands through the streets of Paterson today. Many wore red sashes bearing the letters "I. W. W." and a number of women were dressed entirely in red.

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and other leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World were among the marchers. Passing the silk mills the paraders booed and shook their fists.

BUILDING IS TIED UP.

Strike at Syracuse, N. Y., Halts Construction Operations.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 1.—Building operations are tied up here today by a strike of 2,000 hodcarriers and building laborers and 500 carpenters. This has put bricklayers, masons and others out of work. It is estimated that more than 4,000 are idle. All Italians employed by the city struck. The hodcarriers and building laborers ask an increase from 26 to 32½ cents an hour. The carpenters ask an advance from 45 to 50 cents an hour.

OHIO MINERS STRIKE.

St. Clairaville, O., May 1.—Two thousand five hundred miners in the various mines of the Lorain Coal and Dock company in Belmont county struck today because of the refusal of the company to pay the men extra for work in cutting soapstone and slate out of the mines.

SENATE OPPOSES FURTHER DELAY

California Will Take Up Anti-Alien Land Bill in Regular Order.

IS EXPECTED TO PASS

Sacramento, Cal., May 1.—When the senate convened today it expected to take up the Webb re-draft of the alien land law bill in the regular order of business without further conference with Secretary Bryan. Senators Birdsall and Thompson joint authors of the original bill, were confident that it would pass at once.

Mr. Bryan, who returned here from the banquet given him last night in San Francisco by the Panama-Pacific Exposition company, went by automobile with Governor Johnson for a sight at first hand of conditions as they exist in one of the Japanese farming colonies of Sacramento county.

Requests by Senators Wright, Shanahan and Caminetti for delay on the alien land bill, in order that it might be more materially considered met with no consideration from the majority and the chair announced that the bill would come up in the regular course of business.

Secretary of State, Bryan's acceptance of Governor Johnson's invitation to make a short tour today through the farming communities of Florin and Walnut Grove in Sacramento county, caused the majority leaders in the senate to amend their plans for bringing up the anti-alien land bill for final passage this morning. At the suggestion of Governor Johnson it was agreed by the progressive-republican leaders, that out of courtesy to Secretary Bryan nothing should be done in his absence until he had taken his formal and final leave of the California capital. For that reason it was decided to take no action on the bill in the senate until Mr. Bryan came back from his excursion with the governor.

WASHINGTON IS SILENT.

Bryan Wires He Will Leave Tonight on Return Trip.

Washington, May 1.—Secretary Bryan has telegraphed from Sacramento that he will leave that city tonight for Washington. If he can reach St. Louis in time he will deliver an address in that city at the American peace conference convention Saturday night. The secretary probably has communicated directly to President Wilson the latest developments in the alien and owning legislation, but pending the final action of the legislature officials here are silent.

BAIL IS DENIED TO MISS KENNEY

Suffragette is Locked Up as She Sets Foot on English Soil.

FAIL TO STOP ARSON

London, May 1.—Miss Anna Kenney, one of the most prominent of the militant suffragettes, was arrested today as soon as she set foot in England on her arrival from the continent. A detective had accompanied her from Paris bearing a warrant charging her with conspiracy. Miss Kenney was arraigned later at the Bow street police court and remanded until tomorrow by the magistrate, who refused to grant bail.

The police are still in possession of the headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragettes' organization, in King's Way. The telephone switchboard in the offices has been placed in charge of a detective. The members of the militant society are seeking some means of publishing the Suffragette, which is due today, but the type and all the other printing materials were seized yesterday in the raid by the police.

Fails to Stop It.

Notwithstanding the repressive activity of the police the campaign of arson conducted by the militant suffragettes was continued this morning. A large stable at Hendon, a northwestern suburb of London, was set on fire and practically destroyed. A placard with the words "Votes, Votes, Votes, Beware" was found pinned on the premises.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York, left for Paris today. Before her departure she said:

"The British government learns nothing from history. The present coercive measures against the suffragettes are bound to fail."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt, of New York, intends today to attend a meeting of protest against the payment of taxes by the Duchess of Bedford.

Distraint was levied on the property of the duchess on April 21 and a silver cup belonging to her was taken by the tax collectors to satisfy the claims. Tomorrow Mrs. Catt will make her first public speech in England at a meeting of the Actresses' Franchise League.

Issue Their Newspaper.

The suffragettes managed this forenoon to issue the paper, "The Suffragette," in spite of the warning of the government counsel.

Most London newsdealers refused to handle the publication and only a few women were selling it on the streets.

A boat house on the Thames, opposite Hampton Court palace, together with a number of boats was destroyed by suffragettes early today.

The determined stand which the government appears to have taken against suffragette militancy, beginning with its raid yesterday upon the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union with the arrest of six leaders, is mildly but generally commended by some of the London press.

"If they try a hunger strike," says the Mail, "in the event that they are sentenced the act will paralyze the ringleaders' power for mischief. The punishment has at last been made to fit the crime."

The liberal papers make no comment on yesterday's events.

COMPANY ORDERS IN FREE BOOKS

City Detectives Give Up Transportation on the Street Cars.

IN UNIFORM ONLY

Letters were received today by all members of the police force and city government from S. W. Greenland, general manager of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, requesting them to turn in their complimentary ticket books.

In a letter to Chief Abbott Mr. Greenland informed him that under the public utilities act only police officers in full uniform can be transported free. This interpretation has been placed upon it, but notice is given that if a subsequent ruling on the matter will allow of any modification the department will get the benefit of it.

All the books were surrendered and the loss falls particularly hard on the detective sergeants, who can not wear uniforms and who must pay car fare out of their own pockets or walk. If they decide to walk, more detectives will be required, as the time consumed in the work will be greatly increased.

Board Thinking it Over.

Members of the board of public works have under advisement the request of James A. Lechler, Frank H. Schwanz and J. J. Perry, grievance committee of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, that a new wage proposition be made to the linemen who are out of employment. The board had not had an opportunity up to this afternoon to reach a decision.

Little Before the Board.

Unless somebody stirs up something the board of works will have little to do tonight at the regular session, as there was nothing on Clerk Becker's docket this afternoon but assessment rolls for two sewers on the south side, west of Lafayette street, that are up for confirmation.

WANTED — An electrician who can handle telephone wiring, etc. Steady work. Apply at once at factory office. S. F. Bowser & Co., Inc.

A hearing on the park board resolution for the improvement of Thieme drive will be held at the meeting on May 17 and Secretary C. J. Stiss yesterday served notices upon property owners along the drive.

APPLICANTS CAN AWAIT COURT DAY

New Law Will Save Time and Confusion in Liquor Cases.

OTHER COURT NOTES

In the commissioners' court today sixteen liquor licenses on which applications had been heard in April, were granted and this is the last occasion it will be necessary to give hearing on other than the days regularly fixed for them.

Applicants whose licenses expire between two regular session days can wait until the one in the month succeeding the expiration, but the renewals will be dated back to the time of expiration. This remedy was fixed by the new laws and will save time and confusion. Heretofore licenses expiring after the session day of any month and before the one in the succeeding month have filed and given evidence several weeks ahead to comply with the requirements.

Notes of the Courts.

The Tri-State Trust company was today removed as administrator of the estate of John Fissel. Elizabeth Fissel claimed her statutary right to the appointment and as she is the widow she was given charge of the estate.

Although there has been no computation of the mortgage exemptions filed up to yesterday, when the time limit expired, County Auditor Calvin H. Brown is of the opinion that the total will far exceed any other year in the history of the county. This is due to the fact that more homes were built and part of the purchase price covered by mortgage.

Tomorrow the attorneys interested in the Kerr Murray receivership will select a judge to try the issues. Judge Eggeman has announced that he will appoint either Howard Townsend, James H. Rose or Sol A. Wood as the attorneys may agree.

The claim docket will be called tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the circuit court and all attorneys are asked to be present.

A SIMPLE RECIPE BRINGS MUCH MONEY

Eat anything and digest everything by adding Waw-Waw is what a noted English singer has said. Waw-Waw contains a vegetable which was proclaimed by a distinguished French doctor to the young singer, who had suffered with stomach trouble, as having wonderful digestive properties and he made a sauce containing this vegetable, which he added to his food, and sold the recipe for a large sum to a company. Waw-Waw is absolutely unlike any other sauce, yet in flavor it resembles a Worcestershire, although the ingredients used are quite different. The great cooks of Europe have pronounced it unexcelled. The name Waw-Waw is an obsolete South American Indian word for vegetable. It contains no raw spices, coloring matter and is guaranteed absolutely pure. When added in the cooking or with soups, salads, hot and cold meats and fish it gives a flavor unequalled, and at the same time notice how easily you digest anything. Half a teaspoon with water or taken plain cleans the palate and is a wonderful appetizer. Waw-Waw is supplied to the House of Lords and Commons, England, and to the principal hotels and homes throughout the world. A 25-cent bottle from your local grocer will convince you how much more you will enjoy your food and at the same time how very easily you can digest anything.

DAUGHTER OF KIL-SO-QUAH

Has Been Found in the West and Will Return to Roanoke.

Huntington, Ind., May 1.—The visit in this city of Kil-so-Quah, the old Indian woman of Roanoke, now 103 years of age, who is one of the attractions of Huntington's First Annual Booster Day, has disclosed an interesting development in the history of the Revarre family. Kil-so-Quah learned recently that her daughter, Mary, whom she has not seen or heard from in thirty years, is alive and well on a reservation in Indian Territory. Her whereabouts were made known to Kil-so-Quah a few days ago through the pension office, an agent being sent to Roanoke to obtain evidence concerning Mary's claim for a pension. Her husband, a veteran of the civil war, died there a short time ago and Mary has promised that she will return soon to spend the remaining days of her life on the scene of her childhood. She went west more than forty years ago.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. L. Poole, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time. My wife would not keep house without it. We have used it for years, always with good results." Dreier Drug Co.

HINTS AND RECIPES

(By Mrs. Mary Miller.)

In my "Hints and Recipes" talks, let me first impress upon your minds the necessity of good, pure materials. Experience has demonstrated that the flavoring is one of the most important things to be considered in making good pastries. If poor flavoring is used, you cannot expect to obtain good results. Therefore, I shall recommend a brand which I am absolutely sure will be successful in my recipes.

New Laws in Effect.

Governor Ralston has issued his proclamation placing in effect the laws enacted by the 1913 legislature, and except in the case of those carrying emergency clauses and those specifically carrying a later date for their taking effect, Indiana's new laws come into service with the month of May. They comprise a numerical total of some twenty per cent. in excess of the enactments of any recent legislature.

Featuring the list may be said to be the public utilities commission law, the vocational educational law, the inheritance tax measure and the Bacon housing law. Under the new laws now in effect it is unlawful to fish outside the county in which you live, or one immediately adjoining it, without first obtaining a license; October 12 is fixed as Discovery day; restrictions are placed on the sale of habit-forming drugs; persons sentenced to death will die in an electric chair instead of on a scaffold; text-books in the high schools will be uniform; all employes must be paid their wages at least twice a month; a penal farm for jail prisoners will be established; the terms of county superintendents are extended two years; the salaries of state officers are boosted; mattresses must be labeled to show the material from which they are made; the state finance board is authorized to make temporary loans to help the state out of financial embarrassments; the provisions of the weights and measures law are extended; a Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission is established, with authority to expend $75,000 in providing an Indiana building and exhibit; the governor is directed to designate a day annually for killing rats; the carnation is named as the state flower; divorce complaints must be on file at least sixty days before being heard by courts; franchises sought by public service corporations must be published before being acted upon by city councils; dentists must be graduated from a recognized dental college before being eligible to be licensed, and "On the Banks of the Wabash," for always, made the state song.

There can at least be no complaint of a dearth of engineers who come to give Fort Wayne counsel in dealing with its flood prevention problem, for half a dozen or more have already been on the ground looking the situation over and making preliminary suggestions for preventive measures. The greater task of putting some of these plans into effect, however, remains to be attacked, and the personnel of the committee which is undertaking the work is such as to give promise of definite results without unnecessary delay.

Other public questions of vast magnitude which have been engaging Fort Wayne's attention for the past few months will now be compelled to share a bit of the spotlight with James Burke and his crew of diamond stars who are handsomely started in a laudable effort to capture another baseball championship pennant for Fort Wayne.

Perhaps you've noticed casually that predictions of a short peach crop have been formally made this year without awaiting the arrival of the traditional "killing" frost to place the blame upon.

Unless you have already gotten into communication with the office of County Treasurer Bueter, your troubles are not entirely over for the present tax-paying season—and next Monday's the last day.

PRESS COMMENT ON SUFFRAGE STRUGGLE.

"Popular Government Spreading."

Birmingham Age-Herald: "Step by step popular government is spreading over the world and it has hit little Belgium at last."

"Cost of Putting Off."

Boston Transcript: "If the Belgian strike cost $15,000,000 directly, and nobody can say how much indirectly, it only goes to show the expensiveness of trying to put off the inevitable."

"Invites Consideration."

Worcester Gazette: "What the Belgian workers have done and the methods by which they have done it, may well invite the consideration of those militant women raving in England, and of workers in our own land."

"A Revolution."

Providence Journal. "If the Belgian strike ends as agreed, and if the electoral reforms demanded by the strikers are secured, the strike has been a revolution."

"Men of Sense."

Chicago Record-Herald: "It is plain, even at this distance that the leaders of the great strike in Belgium are men of sense and moderation."

"Disappointing."

Utica Press: "The failure to secure immediate reforms in the suffrage must be disappointing to the strikers, but such success probably could have been attained only by a prolonged strike."

"Freedom From Violence."

Grand Rapids News "Considering the several hundred thousand men who went on strike the Belgian contest was waged with unusual freedom from violence."

"The Obvious Lesson."

Albany Journal "The obvious lesson of the strike for equal male suffrage in Belgium should be noted throughout the world. It is that such action can be effective only when there is no deviation from law abiding conduct."

GRAPE JUICE DIPLOMACY.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

All Washington is agog over Secretary Bryan's grape juice dinner. Everybody who could possibly be interviewed has been interviewed, and the majority of those interviewed seem to be perfectly satisfied with the water wagon administration. When Mr. Bryan entertained the diplomatic corps many of the members of the corps brought the customary diplomatic red nose, which betokens many good dinners in the past, where grape juice was not mentioned. But at the Bryan dinner there was nothing stronger served, and the guests had their choice between grape juice, lemonade and buttermilk. No secretary of state ever dared face a problem of that kind before. Even when the white house went dry by an overwhelming majority during the Hayes administration, the secretary of state served wine to the visiting diplomats.

Diplomacy without the cup that cheers has ir the past been looked upon as no sort of diplomacy at all. In fact, the London papers this week have been very outspoken in their denunciation of Mr. Bryan's favorite beverage. They have poked fun at it, because, to take the word of the London papers, a diplomat should be about half soused to be in good working order.

Mr. Bryan does not intend to enter into any diplomatic relations with one foot on the rail, and has announced that grape juice will be the official beverage at the state dinners so long as he is on the job. No roistering crowd of staggering diplomats will keep the neighbors awake while leaving his official residence, and London may object all in vain

WOMAN'S SUPERIOR HONESTY.

(New York World.)

A new phase of the problem of the feminine invasion of man's sphere is presented in the claim that women are better fitted than men for positions of trust because they are more honest. Secretary Lane is quoted as saying, "Money can be more safely handled by women than by men." Managers of large establishments in London commenting upon the statement have approved it. Thus the managing director of one of the largest department stores says that in fourteen years he has had no case of dishonesty among women employes, and furthermore that "as heads of departments they are often unrivalled."

The superiority thus noted is not universally the case. Customs officials say women are the most inveterate smugglers. Hotel keepers complain of their aptness to take almost anything from spoons to blankets for souvenirs. Managers of dressgoods factories say they find women employes prone to take away silk waists and the like whenever they get a chance.

Men, it appears, are tempted by money, women by affairs of dress or ornament. As a general rule, men are more subject to temptation to steal than women by reason of the vices of drink or gambling or fast living. That distinction, however, may not last through another generation of emancipated women. Still, it is to their credit that they have proved themselves equal to the highest trusts of honesty and fidelity.

THE OTHER HALF OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

(Kansas City Star.)

That part of the Monroe doctrine which protects this hemisphere from European aggression is familiar to all persons in the United States. But the other part of it, that the United States should keep out of entangling alliances, is neither so familiarly known, nor is it so strictly maintained.

Yet John Quincy Adams, who first definitely formulated the doctrine, and Monroe, who promulgated it, were at least as much interested in keeping American politics free of foreign interference as in maintaining the integrity of the North American and South American realms. And that part of the doctrine was particularly foreshadowed in Washington's farewell address.

Undoubtedly, a swiftly developing nation is bound by destiny or events to burst some swaddling clothes. A doctrine—no more than a constitution—can not define an eternal way or set eternal limits. But it can describe a certain general guide of national conduct. And it may be well, in view of dollar diplomacy and some not very prophetic treaties, to consider more closely the admonition against what Monroe called entangling alliances and what might now be called international butting-in.

ONCE WORKMAN AFTER TOGA.

Arkansas Governor, Now Lumber King, Candidate for Toga.

Little Rock, Ark., May 1.—Slipping completely out of the limelight when he retired as governor, George W. Donaghey has passed from a politician to a lumber king and merchant prince. In addition to this, he has taken quantities of stock in a million-dollar wholesale dry goods company which has been organized in Little Rock. Former Governor Donaghey started his career as a carpenter and became a successful contractor before entering politics. He is now a candidate for the United States senate.

Films, Plates and Dark Room Made Unnecessary

New Camera Takes Finished Pictures In Two Minutes

Mr. Edmond F. Stratton, of New York city, has invented a camera that takes and completes pictures ready to see in two minutes. It does away with the expense of buying films or plates and the trouble, expense and delay of having them developed and pictures printed by a photographer. The camera has a fixed focus lens and there is no delicate focusing mechanism to get out of order or for you to learn to operate.

This camera, which is called the Gordon Camera, is being manufactured by the Gordon Camera company, 1856 Stuyvesant Building, New York, N. Y. As they are desirous of making it known in every locality, they are making a special offer to our readers. For a limited time upon receipt of $2.50 (and 90 cents additional to cover parcel post, sensitized cards and developing powders) they will send you a regular $5 Model A Gordon Camera.

The sensitized cards, which make pictures 2½x3½ inches, are wrapped for daylight loading, and the powders make the developing solution to be put into the developing tank, which is inside the camera. The camera itself is 5x8½x9 inches and weighs 2 pounds 4 ounces.

The cost of taking pictures with the Gordon camera is almost nothing in comparison to all other cameras. Extra sensitized cards can be bought for one and one-half cents each, and 10 cents worth of developer will develop over 40 pictures. The Gordon company sells flash light lamps for 80 cents, which will enable you to take pictures at night in your own parlor, or out of doors.

The operation of this new camera is so simple that any little boy or girl can easily take pictures with it after reading the directions sent with each one. When ordering a camera under this special offer be sure to mention that you are a reader of the Fort Wayne Sentinel.

HOW TO AVOID MOSQUITOES.

Sanitation Expert Tells Philadelphians Secret of Warfare.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 1.—Practical methods for the elimination of the mosquito were outlined by James E. McCrudden, chief of the division of sanitation, in an address yesterday at a neighborhood meeting held in the Benson school, Twenty-seventh and Wharton streets. "Prompt and complete eradication of the mosquito pest requires that houses must be rid of any conditions which might interfere with the crusade against the mosquito," Mr. McCrudden said, "and the co-operation of the individual citizen is absolutely necessary to this end. "The kind of mosquitoes we have in Philadelphia do not fly long distances, and, except under unusual conditions, are never found more than a few hundred feet from their breeding place. If you have mosquitoes in your home, you have the breeding place within a block, perhaps, on your own premises. Any deceptacle that holds water any length of time will breed mosquitoes, but can be rendered safe by oil renewed once a week. The mosquito is the only known means of spreading malaria."

Mothers Overjoyed

Tasteless Castor Oil—Modern Machinery Wins

For generations chemists have been trying to take the taste out of castor oil for it is acknowledged by all physicians to be the sovereign, unfailing remedy for nine-tenths of the ills of mankind. Every effort has failed till modern machinery, with its wonderful speed, enabled the manufacturer to extract the oil from the bean and bottle it instantaneously. The obnoxious taste was caused by the oil being exposed to the air before bottling and becoming rancid. The new process renders castor oil tasteless and colorless. The process is known to physicians as O. C. O. and has that mystic mark on the bottle. Physicians are using O. C. O. in their prescriptions. It is so simple and inexpensive a remedy for constipation and the dull brain, tired muscles and muddy skin that always results from constipation, that every person should have it within easy reach. Castor oil has saved many a child from dangerous fevers, but it meant a nerve-racking tussle for the parents to get the hard dose down. With O. C. O. tasteless castor oil there is no trouble. Costs a few cents for a large bottle. You have doubtless been disappointed in so-called tasteless castor oils. O. C. O. is really tasteless.

Ask your dealer now for a big bottle, 15c. If he hasn't it, ask him to get it for you.

"You Can't Legislate People Into Being Good, So Tell Your Children About Mystery of Life," Urges Mrs. Mason.

MRS. J. Q. MASON.

Tacoma, Wash., May 1.—"If there were fewer prudes among fathers and mothers, there would be fewer criminals in the police courts and fewer fallen women in the redlight districts."

When a woman has borne three sons, guided them through the mazes of childhood and boyhood, warned them in time of the ruts and pitfalls that beset their feet, and brought them to young manhood whole, strong and clean—when a woman has done all that she may be said to qualify as an expert in the science of life.

Here is a finer, surer knowledge than you will find in books.

When you appoint such a woman to serve on a "board of social service," to advise the city fathers in matters which affect vitally the lives and souls of one hundred thousand people, you do a wise, sane thing.

Such a woman is Mrs. J. Q. Mason, who says if parents were less prudish fewer children would "go wrong."

"I have 32 nephews and 31 nieces," said Mrs. Mason. "I was one of a family of seven. And now I am a grandmother. So I know!

"I have talked at many mothers' meetings. I ask them how many have told their sons and daughters the truth about the great mystery of life. And, oh, so few have! They are shocked that I should suggest such a thing. The subjects of sex, they object, are not 'nice' subjects.

"I told my children the truth. They thank me for it now. The healthy child is curious. I wouldn't give a snap of my finger for a child without curiosity.

"The curious boy is going to explore the mysteries, if not with his parents' guidance, alone. Alone or otherwise, he will explore. And, if alone, he gathers half truths of life which are a thousand times more dangerous than ignorance.

"It is a mistaken goodness to keep the truth from the children. It is unfair to the children. It sends them into the world handicapped by ignorance of things which they have a right to know."

Mrs. Mason was asked by what method of approach, in her opinion, could the general social tone of a city be raised.

"Not by legislation," she replied. "You can't make people good with statutes and ordinances. Education is the slowest, but surest, way. And education must begin with the mothers, who must be taught that it is wicked, as well as foolish, to be prudish.

"We must arm the child with knowledge. We must then give him every reasonable opportunity for clean play. We want more playgrounds. We want municipal dance halls.

"We have the censorship of the moving picture shows. Some people would have us condemn three-fourths of the films, not because they are morally bad, but because they are not intellectually good.

"I do not think we have a right to condemn melodrama because it doesn't come up to our esthetic standard.

"Others would have us condemn the 'comic' films as flippant and frivolous. Well, some of us take life too seriously. The humor of the films may be broad, but I, for one, will confess unblushingly that when the erring husband is chased by an irate wife, a mother-in-law, the butcher, the policeman, the nursemaid, the fat man and all the rest, up hill and down dale, through rivers, over embankments and so on, I—well, I laugh with the rest. It is good to laugh.

"Granted that it is a pity we don't want Ibsen in our moving pictures, but that we do want melodrama with cowboys, gunmen, pirates, hidden treasure, jail-breaks, an entirely too good hero and an impossible-bad villain—what are we going to do about it?

"You can't legislate a boy into reading Browning when his appetite craves 'Dead Shot Dick.' But you can, if you try long enough and hard enough, educate in him an appreciation of a good story in a book or on the stage, just as you can, if you persist, make mothers see the criminal folly of lying to their children concerning subjects which they think are not 'nice.'"

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, May 1.—A most extraordinary situation, which is becoming more acute every day, has arisen in the supreme court of the United States. It is learned from reliable sources that the court is deadlocked and finds itself quite unable to reach any decision on the three most important cases which have been referred to that court since the war.

These cases are the Minnesota rate, the Omaha bridge case and the so-called "intermountain cases"—the Spokane-Reno cases. In spite of the fact that the interstate commerce commission and the whole legal machinery of the various states is practically stopped awaiting the decision of the court in the railroad rate cases, no decision is forthcoming, and the information which comes from inside the court indicates that the justices are so hopelessly divided that there is no prospect of a decision in any of the cases in the immediate future. The situation is rendered almost ludicrous by the fact that there is no known way of compelling the court to decide the cases, and, so far as the constitution and the statutes are concerned, the court might keep these cases under "advisement" forever, thus stalling the whole system of rate regulation and making the control of railroads impossible.

These three cases are regarded by members of the interstate commerce commission as the leading cases in the enforcement of the rate law. In excess of twenty cases involving the authority of a state legislature to make two-cent fare laws, or to revise downward the tariff on freight and passenger traffic within a state, are awaiting the final decision of the Minnesota rate case. Nothing can be done to determine finally what is the relation of the state sovereignty to the federal sovereignty until the supreme court speaks. The current report is that no two justices of the court are able to agree as to any essential feature of the Minnesota rate case.

Briefly stated, the case involves the right of the state legislature to fix intrastate rates on railroads which are also engaged in interstate traffic. In 1906-7 the Minnesota legislature passed a law reducing passenger fares within the state from three to two cents; and also reduced commodity rates about 8 per cent, and about the same time the state railway and warehouse commission promulgated orders directing the reduction of merchandise rates between 20 and 25 per cent. The railroads went before the circuit court of the United States and enjoined the enforcement of the laws and the commission's orders on the ground that for the state unduly to reduce the revenues of railroad companies as to state traffic might have the effect of interfering with interstate traffic.

Judge Walter H. Sanborn issued the injunction upholding the contention of the roads. The case was immediately appealed to the supreme court of the United States, where it has been argued twice. If the court should uphold the circuit court it would mean that no state could regulate its traffic, and as the constitution of the United States gives the federal control only over interstate traffic, it would mean that no authority of any kind would exist as to the control of purely state traffic.

The Spokane-Reno cases—the intermountain cases—involve the right of a railroad to charge more for a shorter than for a longer haul. The railroads imposed a rate which made it more costly to ship freight to Spokane and Reno than to ship the same freight all the way to the Pacific coast. The interstate commerce commission decided broadly that the roads must go through a general reorganization of rates and fix certain bases of rates very favorable to the contention of the intermountain shippers and hostile to the roads. This was intended to equalize conditions between interior and coast ports. The case went to the commerce court, which turned down the commission. On appeal it went to the supreme court about a year and a half ago. The court might decide this case either of two ways. It might decide that the commission has exercised its broad general rate-making power in a proper manner and that the railroads are bound by the decision. Or, it might dodge the whole issue by deciding that the commission has no such broad power, but must determine whether a rate is reasonable or unreasonable in each particular and individual case brought before it, and send the question back to the commission on this ground.

The Omaha bridge case simply involves the question of whether the interstate commerce commission has in fact, and can enforce its authority over municipal transit service which crosses a state line. The case involves the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railroad company, having business between Omaha and Council Bluffs across the Missouri river.

There seems to be every probability that the court will continue to be deadlocked in these three cases, and the interstate commerce commission and the state legislatures and commissions will continue to wait. The result may be the passing of a constitutional amendment to define once and for all the line of demarkation between federal and state authority over common carriers and thus eliminate the "twilight zone" which now exists.

RAISE SHEEP; EAT MUTTON.

Such Is Advice of Educator as to Reducing Cost of Living.

Spokane, Wash., May 1.—Sheep should be cultivated as a potent agency for reduction of the high cost of living, in the opinion of President E. A. Bryan of the Washington State college, who has caused to be issued a special bulletin dealing with sheep-raising and the preparation and cooking of mutton for family use. "At present farmers use bacon or cured pork most of the year, or go to the market and pay the high retail price for fresh beef," said President Bryan. "If they had sheep their tables could be supplied with fresh meat almost the entire year. These grain farms of the Spokane country are capable of feeding a great many sheep at little cost. There is no meat so good for the farmer as mutton. It sometimes requires a little time to acquire a taste for mutton, but once acquired it often is preferred to any other meat. If the farmers of this part of the Pacific northwest will raise sheep on their grain farms they will add not only to their profits but to the convenience and comfort of their homes by assuring fresh meat for the table."

Bloom of Youth Now Easily Attained

(From Popular Science.)

You no longer need to "doctor" that sallow, freckled, blackheaded, rough, blotchy, pimply or over-red skin. You can remove it, instead—easily, painlessly, inexpensively. By a new scientific process, which anyone can use without assistance, the dead and near-dead surface skin, with all its imperfections, is gently, gradually absorbed—and a radiantly youthful and beautiful complexion comes forth! Go to your druggist, get an ounce of pure mercolized wax; at night apply enough of this to completely cover the face; don't rub it in. Next morning remove the wax with warm water. The result after a few days is astonishing. You wonder why this secret wasn't discovered long ago.

Let the wrinkled folks also take hope. Put an ounce of powdered saxolite into a half pint witch hazel, bathe the face in the solution and—say!—there's nothing that will so effectually, so promptly, smooth out all those hateful lines. You'll find this lotion, as well as mercolized wax, works equally well on neck and hands.

URGES NEW PLAN IN OUR SCHOOLS

Educator Believes Colleges Should Assist Modern High School.

ALLOW MORE SCOPE

Pittsburg, May 1.—"Unless the American high school and the American college are adjusted we have no real educational system," says Clarence D. Kingsley, specialist in secondary education for the Massachusetts board of education in a bulletin on college entrance requirements just issued by the United States bureau of education. In these words he sums up the current demand that the colleges of the country shall give the high schools more freedom in their work by ceasing to insist upon requirements for entrance that hamper the school in its duty to the community. He insists that the colleges recognize the changing demands in the high school and base their requirements accordingly. He objects alike to the "easy" college that admits students obviously unprepared and the institution whose demands are so stringent that none of the public high schools can reasonably meet them.

Notwithstanding recent changes in the direction of uniformity, great variety in requirements is still found. English is about the only regularly required subject. Curious contradictions appear in the several hundred institutions examined. Certain subjects are considered so important by some colleges that they require them, while other colleges will not even accept them. Thus, for admission to the A. B. course, there are four colleges that give no credit for science and four that give credit for only half a year of it, while, on the other hand, 91 colleges prescribe one full year of science. Such contradictions as these, says Mr. Kingsley, "burden the high school, provincialize college student bodies, and discredit fine discriminations between subjects." Again, some colleges rigidly enforce the statements printed in the catalogue, while others leave much discretionary power to the officer in charge of admission.

Some real improvements in the relation of high school and college are noted, however, showing that these two important agencies in education are more willing to help each other than they have been in the past. Many colleges now accept various practical subjects for admission. Of the 203 colleges of liberal arts examined, 97 recognize shopwork, 88 commercial branches, 80 agriculture and 79 "household science" as subjects of admission. There is a large and growing list of colleges that will accept for entrance any subject that an approved high school counts toward graduation.

That admission to college should be based solely on the completion of a well-planned high school course; that the high school should be given free play, so that it may adapt its work to the needs of the community, and that the colleges must keep the door open to the youthful seeker after college education who is animated by a strong inner purpose in the face of obstacles regardless of whether he has fulfilled the old-fashioned formal requirement or not; these are some of the conclusions drawn by Mr. Kingsley as to the mutual duty of school and college.

Lafayette Square in Buffalo Will Be Surrendered to Traffic.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 1.—This month will mark the beginning of the end of Lafayette square as a rest spot for tired humans and the first step in the transformation of the square into an open space for the convenience of vehicular traffic, for on that date the park board will contract for removing the approaches to the soldiers' monument and the bench space about it and the paving of the square with asphalt.

Forty-Five Years Since We Started Our Indiana Business

It is over forty-five years since we started our chain of Indiana stores. Our Fort Wayne store was established in 1868. Hardly a half dozen business houses which were in Fort Wayne then still remain in business here. Only one firm in many outlive forty-five years. Only the fittest survive. But the "Big Store" remains, and it is a remarkable fact that today we are selling wedding outfits to the third generation since starting our Fort Wayne business. Our Terre Haute store was opened in 1870 and is, therefore, forty-three years of age. Lafayette is the baby of the family, but it, too, has been old enough to vote these many years. In all their history our stores have never been catering to the public with greater success than in this year of 1913.

Townsend-DeWitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Townsend have announced their marriage which took place in Indianapolis, on April 12, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, with the Rev. Mr. Brown, rector of the church, officiating. The bride was formerly Miss Florence DeWitt, of this city. The marriage was not a secret either to Mr. Townsend's parents or to the bride's mother, who recently came here from her home in Michigan to be a patient for an indefinite time at Hope hospital. Mrs. Townsend preferred to have the marriage kept a secret from friends on account of the illness of her mother whom she is attending at the hospital. Mrs. Townsend is a trained nurse and was graduated from Hope hospital in the class of 1910. She is very attractive of appearance and is in every way a young woman of beautiful character. Mr. Townsend came to Fort Wayne two years ago from Indianapolis and is a traveling salesman for the Sears Sickle company. Mrs. Townsend roomed with Mrs. Frank E. Cook, formerly Miss Lucile Cameron, whose marriage took place this week.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings" to Return Saturday for Two Performances.

Quaint characterization, portrayal of those universal human qualities that interest and amuse—these are elements which figure largely in making Graham Moffat's play, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," so irresistibly delightful and so successful. The human note is ever potent in "Bunty." Its realism is unfaltering. At no time does the play swerve along the by-paths of artificiality.

That this is true was demonstrated earlier in the season when "Bunty Pulls the Strings" was first presented in Fort Wayne. The famous play made an exceedingly favorable impression, so much so that "Bunty" has been booked for a return engagement on Saturday afternoon and night, May 3, at the Majestic. The company coming to Fort Wayne on May 3 is the all-Scotch company headed by Miss Molly McIntyre in the role of Bunty Biggar. This is the company that played at the Shubert-Murat theater, Indianapolis, last November. Artistically they are the equal of any organization ever brought to America.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings" has been called "a bit of auld Scotland transplanted in America," and the description is appropriate. Still, such description without supplement is more or less misleading. The play is a picture of Scotch home life, quaint, gentle, full of the humor of the provincial soil. It presumes to deal with the tangled affairs of the family of Tammas Biggar in particular and of the entire population of the little Highland village of Lintiehaugh in general, depicting, however, those familiar human phases of village life which makes all Lintiehaughs one and the same the world over. "Bunty" is a wondrously lucid portrayal of human nature in its most interesting and amusing manifestations.

The Trail of the Lonesome Pine.

Eugene Walter, as a dramatist, is a name to conjure with. He is a great localist and in his dramatization of John Fox, jr.'s, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which has been more widely read than any other romance by an American author, he has made heart sentiment a real factor, and subdued the spirit of the feud, which June's love for Hale, the engineer, aroused.

June is plunged into a new world when she goes to school in the Gap, and her conflict between love and home is strangely pathetic.

The beautiful play, one of the biggest successes in years, comes to the Majestic Monday, May 5, for a return engagement with a strong cast.

PROMINENT FORT WAYNE WORKER FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

MISS ELIZABETH SIHLER.

Miss Elizabeth Sihler, one of the most ardent workers in the cause of equal suffrage in Fort Wayne, is going to Indianapolis tomorrow morning to attend the second annual congress of the Woman's National Equal Franchise league, which will be held in that city. At a banquet to be held on Friday evening Miss Sihler will give one of the toasts.

Miss Sihler is prominent in both educational and literary circles of Fort Wayne, as well as in the cause of suffrage for women. Miss Sihler is a woman of broad education in the languages and in all matters pertaining to culture. She is a member of the College club and has been an inspiration to many of its members to promote the best interests of the club work, in addition to her duties as teacher of German at the High and Manual Training school.

AT THE TEMPLE

Wright Huntington and his clever company are presenting Paul Armstrong's drama of the underworld, "The Deep Purple," which opened an engagement at the Temple this afternoon with a matinee Saturday. The cast:

William Lake.....Frank M. Thomas
Gordon Laydeck.....Wright Huntington
George Bruce.....Teddy Le Due
Harry Leland.....George Connor
"Pop" Clark.....Earl Lee
Connelly.....Duncan Penwarden
Finn, Police Lieutenant.....Guy Durrell
Postman.....William F. Gee
Page.....Joseph Brazy
Kate Fallon, known as "Frisco Kate".....Louis Gerard
Doris Moore.....Laura Hudson
Mrs. Lake, William Lake's Mother.....Josephine Fox
Ruth Lake, his sister.....Henrietta Dickinson
Christine, Kate's maid.....Edna Davis

This play created a veritable sensation in New York and Chicago. The action begins when a plot is laid against a young, rich mining engineer, who has just returned to his New York home from the west. The plotters are in Kate Fallon's home; they are led by Harry Leland, known to his associates as a first-class "badger man," who has won the love of a young girl who has come to New York to be married. Leland has misrepresented his occupation, telling the young girl that he was owner of a mine, but that his interest has been held back through a misunderstanding with his partner, William Lake.

Leland suggests that the young girl see the stubborn partner to effect a settlement. Doris Moore is made a decoy without any knowledge of the plot; she is to bring Lake to the rendezvous of the gang. She does this, but not before Kate Fallon has reached him with a warning. The hunted now turns hunter and there are a number of wonderful scenes and situations which lead up to the scene where Leland, the badger man, pays for his treachery by being killed by Gordon Laylock, a western "killer" who is in the east trying to secure a position whereby he may show "Frisco" Kate that he is in the process of reformation.

AT THE EMPRESS

Tonight at the Empress theater Miss Grace Cameron, former comic opera star and vaudeville's most talented singing commedienne, will endeavor to sing the songs voted by popular choice. The list has been hanging in the foyer of the theater throughout the week and hundreds of favorites have been named. Just before Miss Cameron's appearance tonight at the first show, the count will be taken and the five songs receiving the greater number of votes will be her repertoire for the remainder of the week.

To have a complete knowledge of the words and music to more than a hundred songs, any one of which she can sing without a moment's notice, seems almost unbelievable, but Miss Cameron is able to do this. "It is no effort at all, and I can sing one song just as easy as another," she remarked, when the question was asked if she did not find it difficult to retain so many song numbers in her mind. "I believe that I can sing, right now, any song that I have ever used for any length of time," and considering the numerous comic operas and musical shows she has starred in, this would be no small feat.

At her own request, Miss Cameron is going to entertain the children on Saturday afternoon at the first performance. At that show she will devote her entire time to juvenile numbers, such as the kiddies will understand and appreciate. Her "Little Orphant Annie" from the Riley poem of the same name is a child classic. At the second matinee on Saturday her program will again be for adult audiences, as well as children.

Friday night will be the contest for the youngest fiddlers. Already a half dozen names have been entered to capture the prize money of ten dollars, and there is still room for more. Any boys or girls under sixteen years of age who contemplate taking part in the contest should leave their names at the box office at once.

AT THE JEFFERSON

The best evidence that the Jefferson is showing the best there is in film production is the thousands that saw "Satan." Many saw the Jefferson for the first time and were surprised at the size of the play house and the perfect ventilation, and the brightness of the pictures and comforts that can only be found at the Jefferson.

The program for today and night is an Imp two-reel feature entitled "The Rise of Officer No. 174," with King Baggot in the name part, and it is said this is the best thing that he has done. The story was built around the present police graft investigation in New York city and shows how an honest officer can reach the top. A pretty love story runs throughout the film. Friday comes a great western feature in three reels, "The Madcap Countess." This is a love story full of action and thrills; there are some hairbreadth escapes, but he gets the girl. An extra reel, "The Silver Cross," will be run for good measure. No advance in prices.

AT THE LYRIC.

The Lyric announces today a Keystone film entitled "The Rag Time Band" and a Gaumont, "While the Robber Robbed." The Rag Time Band film is probably one of the most amusing of the recent releases, presenting situations of screaming humor. The band quarrels with pretty Mabel, but finally appears on the stage at an amateur night. Vegetables and decayed hen fruit come their way, and the leader, Krause, gets the fire hose behind the scenes and turns it on the audience. Tomorrow the two reel Bronco "Retrogression" will be the program.

MRS. CLARK FAIRBANK.

MRS. D. FERD URBAHNS.

The guest evening musicale at the Majestic theater this evening, under the auspices of the Morning Musical society, will be one of the most important affairs of the season. Disappointed in an artist recital, which was planned by the society to be given during the week following Easter, the officers of the society concluded that as the former date was unavoidably canceled they would have a Mayday complimentary affair instead. Leon Sametini, a Belgium violinist, who created a furore by his playing during the winter with the Thomas orchestra in Chicago, was engaged for the March affair. It was found possible to get Sametini for today and Miss Marie Edwards, the pianist, who accompanies the violinist in Chicago when he is not engaged with the orchestra, will be here to play for him tonight. A soprano, Mrs. Greta Masson Murch, also of Chicago, will be the other artist of the evening. The program promises to be one of unusual enjoyment for the works to be performed are those which require an intellectual understanding as well as technical equipment and a musical appreciation to play or sing to the understanding and pleasure of an audience. The audience will be composed mainly of music loving people for the Morning Musical society has been generous in the matter of invitations. The students of Concordia college have been offered the gallery at the theater this evening to come in a body if they choose. Not all of the officers of the society will be present. Mrs. Clark Fairbank, for several years the president of the society, will not attend, owing to recent bereavements in her family. Other officers of the Morning Musical are Mrs. Will Crighton, Mrs. Walter Seavey and Mrs. Charles Worden, who are vice presidents; Mrs. Charles Horton and Miss Lillian Lapp, secretaries; Mrs. W. H. Peltier, treasurer; Mrs. B. W. Rhamy, librarian; Mrs. D. Ferd Urbhans, Mrs. Henry Ranke and Mrs. Maurice Dukes, program committee.

HAIR ORNAMENTS.

The straight fillets so much seen with evening dress last year are now partially superseded by those arranged in curves which form a wavy line upon the coiffure. They end in jewelled circlets with short fringe to match and can be adjusted in a moment. One of the prettiest of jewelled bands for the hair is a design of wheels between two bands of jewelling. The whole bandeau ends in a point at either side. It is rather high in front, a fashion which suits the round-faced.

The Royal Neighbors will give a pedro party Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Odeon hall.

BY ADELE MENDEL.

The glorious spring offers so many possibilities for novel ideas that, with little excuse, a clever hostess who is planning a may day party can decorate a table which will draw forth enthusiastic exclamations of admiration from the guests. One essential thing to remember is that table decorations should always be graceful and dainty in effect and in keeping with the season.

There are many especially designed crepe papers that are a great help to the hostess.

For a Maytime party when the joyful atmosphere makes us all wish to "go a Maying," what would be more appropriate than to transform the room into a floral bower of apple and cherry blossoms? Have great branches of the blossoms in every nook and corner, against the windows, over the mantlepiece, above the doors, in pretty vases, under the chandelier; in fact, here, there and everywhere.

The natural blossoms can be forced into early bloom by placing them in pails of water a few days previous to the affair, but a good substitute having the semblance to the natural blossoms is quickly made by twisting small circles of pink and white tissue or crepe paper around the real branches. Another way is to insert the twigs through the center of the flower. The paper flowers can also be strung on long strings of varying lengths and used effectively in numerous ways.

The table illustrated is certainly decorated in keeping with the May day idea. Pink and green are its predominating colors. The table cloth is of white crepe damask paper, with a design of spring flowers. This is gathered around the edge of the table and neatly finished with a half-inch paper cord.

The May pole centerpiece is made of a piece of wood, one end one-half inch in diameter and 24 inches high. This is made to stand erect by placing it in a cardboard box covered with pink crepe paper. Suspended from the pole about six inches from the top is a wreath of spring blossoms (either artificial or real ones can be used). A cluster of real flowers is also fastened to the top.

The "grass" around the May pole is formed of a large piece of cardboard covered with green paper cut in narrow fringe. Six little paper dolls, gayly dressed in fancy paper dresses, dance around the May pole.

The candle shades are covered with green paper and ornamented on one side with bouquets of flowers.

The ices are served in little baskets of green with tiny bouquets attached to the handle. The nut baskets are similar in shape, only smaller in size.

At each place are little basket-shaped place cards, decorated with a little bow and a few blossoms. A merry jingle or a little verse appropriate for each guest always adds to the entertainment of the hour.

For souvenirs there are fascinating little bouquets of assorted flowers, the kind that the women are wearing on their coats now.

The menu should be both dainty and simple. Carry out the basket idea in the refreshments served. The sandwiches can easily be cut basket shape. If you are going to have a salad, serve it in individual baskets formed of head lettuce or of a cucumber scooped out.

Dainty little cakes or cookies can be baked basket shaped and iced in pink and filled with ice cream.

Many ideas will suggest themselves to you as you work, but I am sure your May party will be long remembered if you follow these suggestions.

"MAKING UP" WITH ACTRESSES REQUIRES DIFFERENT COMPLEXIONS FOR DIFFERENT CHARACTERS, SAYS HELEN WARE.

BY IDAH M'GLONE GIBSON.

You have to look all right to "Emma" even after you have passed muster with the stage door man, to get into Helen Ware's dressing room.

Miss Ware has an idea that Emma is her maid, but in reality Emma is her guardian-dragon, keeping everything from her loved mistress that she thinks will worry, annoy or bore her.

However the artist and I must have looked all right to Emma, as we were ushered without much trouble into the dressing room where Miss Ware was making up for "Maggie" in "The Escape."

"I never fuss much with my stage dressing room," said the actress, "as I look upon it as a work shop and if the grease paint and other paraphernalia for my part are where I can easily reach them and the room is comparatively clean I am content."

Miss Ware looked stunning as she sat before the tall mirror that was placed across the corner of the paper covered shelves.

Her hair is of midnight hue and the brilliant red satin kimona with its sprawling chrysanthemums was especially becoming to her. She combs her hair in only one way—a Madonna part, with softly-waving tendrils about her face and braids at the back. To counteract this somewhat spiritual hairdressing she always wears a tiny black court plaster beauty spot up near the corner of her eye. This, however, she proceeds to take off the first thing when she begins to "make up" as she never wears it on the stage.

"It's my own personal bit of vanity," she said, "not for the public, but for myself." Truly, it is vastly becoming and forms a kind of "dramatic" contrast to her Madonna coiffure.

"How do I make up?" repeated Miss Ware. "Well, differently for different characters, but you can watch my Maggie makeup going on if you wish.

"First, the inevitable cold cream which Emma makes for me, and of which I use pounds."

And suiting the word to the action, Miss Ware proceeded to use a pound, more or less, at once. All over her face and neck this cream was dabbed, patted and rubbed and then with a piece of clean cheesecloth all the superfluous cream was taken off.

"So endeth the first lesson," said Miss Ware.

"Next goes on my 'Maggie' complexion. You know, Maggie, being an east side shop girl in New York, does not have as blooming a complexion as an athletic girl, but still I rub a little rouge all over my cheeks, on my ears and under my eyes. Then I put on plenty of powder of a brunet tint. This is smoothed and blended with a hare's foot and then comes the 'eye' makeup."

Up to this Miss Ware's makeup was one that might be worn on the street by any girl, so deftly was it blended and tinted. After brushing all the powder out of her eyebrows and eyelashes she proceeded to darken her brows with a black grease pencil and to blacken her long lashes with hot grease paint which Emma had been melting over the gas jet in a cunning little doll's frying pan with a long handle. Finally she disclosed herself in a makeup that would do only for the stage.

Miss Ware uses no blue about her eyes for her "Maggie" makeup, but she darkens her eyelashes very heavily. I was wondering how she was going to reconcile that Madonna coiffure with her shop-girl attire when she called:

"Emma, bring me my Maggie bow."

Emma brought a big black bow which Miss Ware pinned over the braids at the back and the change was made in the twinkling of an eye. Exit Madonna, enter girl right off Sixth avenue.

"If all women would only understand that it is such little details which make or mar their costumes they might take a leaf out of the book of the actress," said Miss Ware, as the call boy asked:

"Are you ready, Miss Ware?"

"Yes," she answered as she gave a parting dab with the rouged hare foot to her cheeks, and straightening again her "Maggie bow" under her sailor hat she walked on the stage.

FOR THE OUTING GIRL.

Buenet of Paris sends out a very attractive model in an outing dress made of silk crepon in red, green and white coloring. The collar and belt for this frock is of black silk, and about the short sleeves there is a frill of baby Irish lace.

OUR LITTLE KERCHIEFS.

Pocket handkerchiefs are smaller than ever just now. What our grandmothers would have thought of the dimensions of this useful article it would not be difficult to guess. They would gaze in amazement at the little scraps of finest lawn with a border in pale color. These grandmothers would find that their descendants are wearing turn down collars precisely like those to which they themselves were accustomed when on earth. Nor is the arrangement of the hair very dissimilar from that of forty years ago, with the exception that the flat band across the head was then unknown and would have been set down as a surgical bandage rather than a modistic bit of headgear. In one way we have improved upon the fashions of that period. The high heel has almost disappeared. This would be regarded by our ancestors as a distinct loss of beauty, but in their days health and hygiene were but little thought of.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY.

Misses Katherine Klemm, Anna Greenzenbach, Frieda Lange, Lona Walker, Estelle and Frances Brase, all of whom belong to an embroidery club, met last evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Guethe, of New Haven avenue, for a farewell party in honor of Miss Klemm, who will leave soon for her home. Branches of apple blossoms and club colors formed the decorations. A taffy pulling and popping corn were the principal entertainment of the company. Miss E. Brase and Miss Klemm furnished music and in serving refreshments Mrs. Guethe was assisted by Miss F. Brase.

Mrs. E. Swain, of 115 West Creighton avenue, has returned from visits of some weeks in Richmond, Muncie and other cities of the state.

RAG-TIME FOR ATHLETES.

Music Is Used to Speed Up College Performers.

Cambridge, Mass., May 1.—The effect of music in making Harvard athletes move faster is being tried at the big Locker building on Soldiersfield. A phonograph is in constant operation grinding out ragtime to keep students at concert pitch. Accommodations in the Locker building are limited and it has been found difficult in the past to accommodate all who wish to crowd into it during the rush hours. Under the spell of the music, students are said to be much more speedy in going through the shower baths, putting on their street clothing and making way for other men.

THE TEA GOWN.

Though some of the new season's tea gowns are made short enough to clear the instep there is often sufficient length not only to rest upon the floor, but even to form a short train at the back. In velvet or velveteen of the fashionable rose-du-Barri pink one of these is very becoming with a Marie Antoinette fichu of a beautiful cream colored shadow lace. Its finness of mesh adds a charm to the delicacy of the design.

It has been said that the automobile had banished the tea gown, but the reverse would appear to be the case. After a long ride in a car could there be anything more refreshing than to divest oneself of dusty garments and put on a soft, light and dainty tea gown? One of the smartest of these is in accordion pleated nun's veiling, the bretelle shaped bodice trimming in embroidery or lace.

Miss Blanch and Effie Niles, daughters of Captain Eugene Niles, of the Salvation Army, who arrived here last Friday from Dayton, and who have been assisting with the local army work, will leave next Monday evening for Evansville.

FINDS MERCHANTS EASY PREY.

Check Swindler Obtains Several Hundred Dollars in South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., May 1.—A man giving the name of Fred S. Smith, today swindled local merchants out of several hundred dollars by cashing forged checks bearing the signatures of local manufacturing concerns. The man in some instances entered stores accompanied by a woman and after making smal purchases would present checks of considerable size and receive from $15 to $25 in change. At other times he was accompanied by a child. He was fashionably dressed and appeared to be in prosperous circumstances.

FLOOD AFFECTS PERMITS.

Not as Many Issued in April as in Same Month Last Year.

Floods in Fort Wayne during March and April affected the building industries largely and only 103 permits were issued last minth as against 133 for the same month in 1912.

The estimated cost of the buildings naturally were less and for last month the figures are $222,150 and in 1912 they were $302,650. For the first three months of this year the total estimated cost is $568,798 and the same period in 1912 showed $754,325.

NAMES NEW COMMISSIONER.

Kokomo Mayor Appoints Man Who Will Hunt "Blind Tigers."

Kokomo, Ind., May 1.—Mayor John L. Puckett has appointed Thomas J. Hanna, a democrat, a member of the board of metropolitan police commissioners. His advent into office was signalized by the hearing of charges against Patrolman Ora Elkins, who was accused of undue intimacy with several women, and of neglecting his wife and family. Elkins was removed after he had admitted the truth of the charges. The principal witnesses against him were his wife and several neighbors. Hanna, the new commissioner, is a "dry" advocate, and his appointment is taken as a fulfillment of the mayor's promise to name a man who would do all in his power to rid the city of "blind tigers."

HIGH SCHOOL OUT FOR GAME.

Students Given Opportunity to Witness Opening of Base Ball Season.

Principal C. T. Lane, of the high school, yesterday notified all teachers that classes today would be suspended at 2:57 o'clock in order to give students an opportunity to attend the first ball game of the season. The afternoon classes, however, will be commenced at 1:10 o'clock instead of at 1:30, and two periods of the afternoon classes will be completed in this way. Mr. Lane observed that he thought that this plan would be better than to handle such a large number of excuses. "Many of our boys think that the opening of the base ball season is the most important event of their lives," says Mr. Lane.

NO ACTION AGAINST "FRATS."

According to Superintendent J. N. Study the school board has taken no definite steps following the dissolution of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity nor any other frats. A rumor that the board had given two weeks for the frats at the high school to disband was unfounded. Mr. Study is pleased that parents cooperated with the school board and refused to allow their children to attend the dance recently given by the Kappa Alpha Phi, and feels that frats will soon be a thing of the past in the local high school.

MISS WILSON HIS PASSENGER.

Chafleur Fined for Speeding With President's Daughter.

New York, May 1.—Wm. J. Greenwood, a taxicab chauffeur, was fined $5 today for driving Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, and her escort up Broadway at a speed of twenty-four miles an hour.

The policeman who appeared against Greenwood said when he stopped the taxicab yesterday evening Greenwood told him that his passengers were the president's daughter and Boyd Fisher, manager of the Social center and that they were hurrying to a hotel to pick up a Princeton professor who had to catch a train for Princeton. The policeman let the car proceed after summoning the chauffeur to court today.

Mr. Fisher paid Greenwood's fine.

WANT TO SEE ACTIVE SERVICE.

During the month of April four recruits were passed at the marine recruiting station and three more are waiting to be passed. Frederick F. Forfert says that the reason for the large number is the possible trouble on the western coast of the United States. Most all applicants are young men. At the army and navy stations applications are scarce on account of the time of the year.

CENTRAL LEAGUE PLAYERS SIGNED

Vandagrift to Play at Second Base With Indianapolis.

PHILLIPS IS READY

Charleroi, Pa., May 1.—With the opening of the Federal league season less than ten days off, Manager Bill Phillips, of the Indianapolis club, has practically rounded up his team. Today he gave out his list of players. He says he may dispose of some, but not until the end of the training season.

All his men have signed and reported for practice. Most of his players Manager Phillips secured from the Central and other high-class leagues of the central and eastern states.

The players signed are:

Catchers—Durell, Massing.
Pitchers—Bair, Cales, France, Reis, Kirsch, Sutherland, Swaney, Taylor, Beebe, Potter, Billiard.
First Base—Tiemeyer and Swartling.
Second Base—Vandagrift.
Shortstop—Scott.
Third Base—Alcock.
Outfielders—Kaiser, Dusty Miller, M. Miller, Brown, Beswick.

Massing, who will in all probability be the mainstay in the catching department, played with Danville in the Three-I league last year, and hit hard, with an average of .332. His fielding record placed him in eighth position. Durell comes from Pennsylvania. Bair, pitcher, was in the Southern association and Cales was one of the best hurlers with Vancouver, of the Northwestern league. France twirled for Steubenville, and Reis was at Youngstown, Central league. Kirsch is a former East Liverpool pitcher. Alex Sutherland is a Pennsylvania product. Pat Swaney is from Monessen.

Taylor, who looks good, played with the Cincinnati Nationals and with Indianapolis. Beebe comes from the Western Canada league, where in 1912 he made a wonderful record. Billiard pitched for Terre Haute several years ago.

Potter comes from Uniontown, where he played semi-professional ball. He is a chap that Connie Mack and other big leaguers sought. Tiemeyer is a Trenton (N. J.) product. He batted at .301 last year. Swartling, who was to have been stationed at first base, is kept at home by the critical illness of his father, and may be delayed from reporting at all. He jumped Zanesville last season. Tiemeyer was really signed for third base, but being an all-round infielder, will be given the initial sack.

Vandagrift comes from the Central league, where he played second base for Fort Wayne for a couple of years. Scott is from the same league. He was rated among the best third basemen in the league.

Alcock played at Canton in 1912 and was third best fielding third baseman in the Central circuit, and a hard hitter. He had a tryout with the Indianapolis A. A. team last year.

For the outfielders, Phillips has chosen an extremely good number. Kaiser's record has been given before. He spent the year 1911 in the National league with Chicago and Boston, and last year in the American association. Dusty Miller played in the Western league, where he fielded well and hit at .280. Brown started last season in the United States league and since in the Central. Phillips considers him a good outfielder. Beswick comes from Ohio. He hit at .280 and fielded nearly perfect. M. Miller is a Pittsburger, who played in and around Pittsburg last year.

NESPO TO GRAND RAPIDS.

Frank Nespo, last season an infielder with the South Bend club, is said to have been signed by Grand Rapids.

ALL READY WITH BASE BALL PARK

Weather Man Evened Up a Little for the Opening Game.

TEAM A LITTLE LATE

By noon today Claude Varnell, Jack Raidy and his assistants with Contractor Louie Delagrange had the dismantled baseball park looking fine for the opening day and the enthusiasm about the city promised a big crowd to see Johnny Nee's Veteran troupe try for first place with Jimmy Burke's Billikens.

A train connection that should have been made some where along the line last night was missed in the home coming and Fort Wayne's athletes didn't get in until nearly noon. Nee and his band arrived late last night and had a good rest at the Wayne for the inaugural festivities.

Pluck and energy were displayed by Owner Claude H. Varnell in his preparation for the opening and his ambition to supply his patrons with the best brand of baseball and the finest accommodations on the circuit were realized.

Ten days ago it was better than an even bet that with all the hustle injected into the undertaking he could supply nothing better than a makeshift park for the first game but the grounds are just as good as they ever were and the stands are all repaired and in first-class shape for the battle.

Johnny Nee said he would be satisfied with three or four games out of the series and the way the Vets have been going since they got straightened out gave some foundation for the claim.

Mique Redelle, with a new blue suit and a pair of noisy tan shoes, refused to be interviewed on the subject. He is still secretary of the team and attends to business regularly when he is not telling about his thrilling experiences during the flood. The best part of this is that some of the things he tells are true. He spells his first name with "que" because it fits better with Redelle.

Manager Nee said he would start Jakie Fromholtz in the first fight against the Billiken band and hold Jack Compton in reserve, probably for the second conflict unless he is forced to go to the relief of Fromholtz, who has never been particularly successful against Fort Wayne.

Manager Burke's first choice was Tommy Atkins as he believed his left hander can hold Dayton in leash long enough for his pards to stock up runs needed to win the combat.

Earl Sykes, first baseman for the Dayton team, displayed more nerve than any of his compatriots as he sprung the first straw hat of the season and the only one that has been worn in Fort Wayne this season. It is not a left over but one bought this season with the avowed intention of inaugurating the custom for 1913.

No ceremonies had been arranged for the afternoon and it is a little fortunate none were on the program as the local team arrived too late to have participated without a rush that probably would have affected the play of the afternoon.

The weather man, who has frowned on baseball since the Central league opened for the pennant chase of 1913, evidently has relented as he supplied a brand that everybody connected with the owner, the players and local fandom would have picked if the choice had been left to them.

New white suits were distributed at the club house before the game, new base bags were handed over to Jack Raidy and everything to make the game attractive was supplied by the management. The players returned rusty satisfied with the showing made on the trip and think that the club is as good as any met on the road and that with the pitching strength a little better developed they will have little trouble holding their own.

FEATHERS MAY CLASH AGAIN.

Promoter McCarey Wants Kilbane and Dundee to Meet in Return Bout.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 1.—Negotiations were begun today for a return match between Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, and Johnny Dundee, who fought a twenty-round draw with him at Vernon Tuesday night. The contest Tuesday night was unsatisfactory in every way, according to the newspaper commentators yesterday. Although Kilbane led easily on points, the draw decision was commended on the ground that Dundee was the aggressor and coming in at all times, albeit usually covered up. Promoter Tom McCarey and "Scotty" Monteith, manager of Dundee, expressed the hope of putting on the return match in two or three months, preferably July 4.

Ad is seeking engagements for his protege, whom he heralds as a comer, and is trying to attract attention of local and Los Angeles promoters.

THIS PITCHER HAS SOMETHING ON THE GREAT MORDECIA BROWN.

"Three Finger" Brown has a rival at last, but not in the big circuit. Andy Ware, formerly of the Houston club of the Texas league, has been secured by the Chattanooga club. There is really nothing astonishing in this, but wait! Ware is a spitball pitcher with an offering that is unique in baseball. The first three fingers of his right hand were cut off at the third joint in an accident several years ago, and he obtains no grip whatever upon the ball that will cause rotation. As a result this spitter, which he uses continuously has a break that is uncanny in its sharpness and degree.

The statement of the frequency with which Ware uses the spitball may be doubted by many critics who are conversant with Ed Walsh's statement that this ball is a terrific strain upon pitcher's arm, but it is not an exaggeration in regard to Ware, as in view of the fact that he obtains no fractional grip upon the ball the spitter is no strain whatsoever.

ARREST REUNITES PARENTS.

Troubles of Son Brings Reconciliation to Husband and Wife.

South Bend, Ind., May 1.—The arrest of their son, 17 years old, on a charge of burglary yesterday resulted in reuniting William and Pearl Garfield and brought about their second marriage. When the mother heard her son was under arrest here she came to help him and met her husband at the police station. Their troubles were settled and to give their son a home they decided to remarry.

BALTIMORE CUTS SALOONS.

City Concludes It Has Too Many and Closes 160 Places.

Baltimore, May 1—At midnight last night approximately 160 Baltimore liquor bars closed for good, because of the refusal of the liquor license board to renew their licenses. Taking the stand that there were too many saloons in the city the board began a crusade of elimination which touched every section of the city. The loss in the tax revenue will amount to about $160,000.

GAVE YOUNGSTER CHANCE IN LAST

Manager Burke Did Not Want to Start Mamaux at Home.

DROPPED LAST GAME

Evansville, Ind., May 1.—Just to see how Al Mamaux would act in a regular game and to prevent starling the youngster before a home crowd Manager Jimmy Burke started the Pittsburgh recruit in the final contest of the series with the Evansville club and two bad innings caused his downfall but gave him a little experience that may be useful to him later in the season.

Behind the recruit the Fort Wayne team hit hard enough but failed to land safely on the ball when hits meant runs and although a rattling rally in the ninth gave Manager Charles Knoll a few uneasy minutes the defense was steady and the home talent was still four runs to the good when the situation cleared up.

Both clubs played fast and left here last night, Fort Wayne going home to open the season with Dayton while Evansville went to Grand Rapids.

On a pass to Anderson and Burke's out followed by McLafferty's single Fort Wayne counted a run in the second but the locals cut down the lead in the third and went to the front. Jack Byrnes landed for a three-base hit in the round and with a blow by Haley the homeguard put over a pair of tallies.

Tutweiler opened the Fort Wayne half with a single and when Anderson went down on a play to first he took second. At this point the rebel injected a bit of thrilling base running and scored while Burke was being put out at first.

Most of Mamaux's trouble fell in the sixth. Smith opened with a hit and McLafferty juggled Welsh's offering. Kibble hit for two bases and Grefe and Knoll kicked in with singles and three runs resulted.

Each club added another and Fort Wayne had the bases full with one gone in the ninth but neither Jansen or Tutweiler could deliver a hit.

TO JUMP RESERVOIR STEPS.

Bicyclist Leander Will Attempt Feat on One-Wheel Cycle.

At the morning session of the board of public works, Harry Leander, the fearless cyclist at the Empress theater this week was granted permission to attempt to descend the long flight of iron steps at the city reservoir, mounted on a unicycle, or one-wheel bicycle. The board in granting the favor declared that the steps are built of heavy steel and that there is not much danger of them breaking. In fact the only person who should worry is Leander, and that intrepid cyclist doesn't seem to worry a bit.

At 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, Leander will attempt the feat. He will mount his unicycle and jump his way down the flight of eighty steps from the top of the reservoir without making a stop.

The feat to be attempted is the result of a bet between Leander and Merritt, another performer this week at the Empress. Merritt doubted Leander when the latter said he had descended the steps of the capitol building in Washington, and then Leander wagered that he could hop down the longest flight of steps in Fort Wayne.

GALLAGHER SHOWS HOW LITTLE HE KNOWS ABOUT BASE BALL.

Baseball is to be investigated. If Uncle Sam learns that, his pet sport is controlled as meat, coal, lumber and other odds and ends that make up the list of necessities are controlled, then, by crimiuy, he will tramp all over organized baseball.

Representative Thomas Gallagher, of Illinois, has demanded an investigation of baseball and congress plans to investigate. Gallagher is a fan who has the interests of the minor leagues at heart. He has written his opinion of the situation and he shows that he has given much thought to the subject, for he goes straight to the core of the apple in his summary.

BY THOMAS GALLAGHER.

(Representative from Illinois, Who Has Introduced Resolution Calling for Investigation of Alleged Baseball Trust.)

Washington, D. C., May 1.—I have assurances from the rules committee of the house of representatives that there is an excellent chance for the passage of my resolution, calling for an investigation of the baseball trust, and I feel confident that at last we are about to get down in black and white the actual facts about the great sport in which so many millions of American citizens are interested.

CONGRESSMAN GALLAGHER.

While I appreciate keenly the value of an investigation to the patrons of the major leagues, my interest has been aroused chiefly to the plight of the minor leagues—the hundreds of smaller cities throughout the country—and the multitude of patrons of minor league games, now at the mercy of the major organizations.

The most audacious and autocratic trust in the country is the one which presumes to control baseball. Its officials announce through the press the dictates of a governing commission (the national commission) how competition is stifled; how territory and games are appointed; how prices are made (the millions must pay to witness the sport); how men are enslaved and forced to accept salaries and terms or be forever barred from playing.

If one of our big commercial industries was conducted in this manner the government would swoop down on it and break it up. Such conduct would not be tolerated for a moment. Yet here we have a great institution, to which practically all citizens pay tribute, which is allowed to practice its monopolistic business unmolested.

Suppose any big industrial concern forced its employes to enter into a contract which prohibited them working for anybody else? Suppose an employe of a railroad in New England wanted to quit and go to work for a railroad in Iowa, but was told by the Iowa railroad that it wouldn't hire him because he had quit the New England company?

We wouldn't stand that. But is is the rule in baseball.

Those are the things I want investigated. I want competition in baseball, for the good of the sport and the benefit of its patrons, for the same reason that we are right now getting ready to restore competition in industrial and commercial enterprises, for the good of all the people.

HERE'S GREAT 1915 EXPOSITION SEAL.

This is the seal designed by Alfred Lenz, a sculptor of national and international reputation, which will be used for the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The story of this design in the symbolism is as follows:

"In San Francisco in 1915 was held a universal exposition to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. Columbia was hostess and all the world her guests.

"Upon the globe bearing the magnificent relief of the great isthmus connecting North and South America, severed by artificial means, stands a beautiful personification of Columbia, bearing in her left hand a shovel crowned with a laurel wreath, an emblem of her great constructive task completed, while to illustrate the peaceful object of her labor she bears in her right hand an olive branch, but she also wears at her side a sheathed sword, an indication of her purpose to protect and defend the fruit of her labor. In the background are shown the rays of the dawn of a new era in her history. Far below is shown a bird's-eye view of the great gateway connecting the two oceans. In the two locked channels between the rock walls of the great cut one sees a Chinese junk eastward bound and a modern gigantic liner westward bound, a symbol of interchange of commerce between the orient and occident."

It is the purpose of the exposition board that no publication may be regarded as officially sanctioned unless it bears the imprint of this seal.

TAKES POSITION AT SAG HARBOR

A. V. A. Fitz is Superintendent of Big Electric Plant.

A. V. A. Fitz left yesterday for Sag Harbor, N. Y., where he has taken the superintendency of the Sag Harbor Electric Light and Power company, a very responsible position. Mr. Fritz has been with the Fort Wayne Electric works for five or six years, coming here immediately after graduating from Cornell college to take a student's course. After completing the course he remained with the company in the capacity of erecting foreman until yesterday, when he resigned. While employed as an erecting foreman, Mr. Fitz had charge of the installation of the machinery in a number of big lighting and power plants in the country. He made this city his home in the meantime, though he was out of Fort Wayne much of the time.

TRACK ELEVATION LITIGATION.

Chicago Authorities and Nickel Plate in Court.

President W. H. Canniff and General Manager A. W. Johnston, of the Nickel Plate, are in Chicago to attend a conference growing out of the failure of the Nickel Plate and some of the other roads entering that city to make track elevation improvements within the time limit set by the Chicago board of public works. The roads failed, they allege, because of the impossibility to accomplish the work in so short a time. Then the Chicago officials changed the plans for the improvement, making them more difficult and costly to carry out and set Friday, May 2, as the day for discussing the matter. President Canniff passed through the city in his private car on train No. 6 last night and General Manager Johnston passed through in his private car on train No. 1 at 12:25 this afternoon.

2 YEAR OLD LAD SCARES PARENTS.

Yesterday the two and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Norton, of 515 East Suttenfield street, gave his parents a bad scare when he strayed away from home. Mr. Norton is the foreman of the Bass pattern shop and his little son had been in the shop frequently and was headed that way yesterday. He became confused, however, and went in the engine room at the Bass works, where the engineer, realizing that he was a runaway, gave him some cake and detained his until he could learn who were the parents and where they lived. Mrs. Norton missed the boy in the meantime and telephoned to Mr. Norton and as he was passing the engine room on his way home to begin search ofr the child, he saw the little fellow sitting contentedly on a block, eating cake. He was not in the least frightened and probably would have reached the pattern shop were he permitted to continue his journey.

ENGINES FOR THE C. & A.

Three mammoth passenger locomotives built at the American Locomotive works in Dunkirk, N. Y., for the Chicago and Alton road passed through the city over the Nickel Plate yesterday afternoon, being held in the local yards two or three hours. These engines are of a new type and are larger than any in service on the roads running through Fort Wayne. They weigh 160 tons, are of the Pacific type, have superheaters, seventy-two inch drivers, three pair; a large trailer under the cab and four wheel truck under the front end of the boiler; reverse levers operated by air and electric headlights and lights in the cab. They were examined by many railway men while they were in the yards.

WILL MOVE MONDAY.

The 25x75 foot frame building north of the Pennsylvania tracks and a short distance west of Hanna street will be moved 300 feet and located on the north side of the vacant piece of ground, facing on Hough street, where it will continue to be the office of Signal Supervisor C. L. Bartholamew and the store house for signal supplies. The ground mentioned is to become a storage place for the maintenance of way department and as soon as the building is out of the way, the excavation for a loading track will commence.

HAS VALUABLE PATENT.

Clarence Hillberry, formerly of this city but for several years employed by the United States Steel company at Pittsburg, has invented a carbureter for automobiles and motorcycles that is said to possess excellent features and to be much better than any carbureter now in existence. He has made arrangements for manufacturing the apparatus at Philadelphia and will move to that city next Tuesday. Mrs. Hillberry is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Szink and they left this morning for Pittsburg to visit her before she leaves for Philadelphia.

SPECTATORS BADLY SCARED.

Eastbound passenger train No. 28, on the Wabash, nearly missed running down two little girls on a street crossing in this city yesterday morning. The children were on route to school and were talking and taking no notice of things on the railroad or street. They walked out on the tracks in front of the rapidly moving train and saw it only when it was less than fifteen feet away. Witnesses screamed and turned their heads to avoid the horrible scene. The children, however, quickly jumped aside nd continued on their way without giving their names.

Mr. BOWSER JOINS MOTORISTS.

S. F. Bowser, president of the S. F. Bowser & Company, is now the owner of an Indian motorcycle of the three wheel pattern. It has two seats and when in operation is usually ridden by Mr. and Mrs. Bowser. It is the very latest vehicle of the motor type in existence and Mr. Bowser greatly enjoys to ride about the city or out in the country on it.

ESTABLISHED OFFICE HERE.

F. W. Curtis, assistant to Chief Engineer A. O. Cunningham, of the Wabash, whose presence here was mentioned by The Sentinel yesterday, has established an office with Agent McPartland, in the freight office on Grand street. Mr. Curtis will remain here during the progress of the construction work on the Pennsylvania station and represent Chief Engineer Cunningham.

WORKING NINE HOURS A DAY.

May will probably be a busy month for the Wabash shopmen. This morning bulletins announcing a nine hour work day for the shopmen were posted on the various boards. The road is doing a record breaking freight business and the power will be kept up to the standard condition, which means lots of work in the shop.

TWO STENOGRAPHERS RESIGN.

Miss Mattie Burke and Miss Mildred Saylor stenographers, besigned positions at the offices of the Fort Wayne Electric works yesterday. Miss Burke has taken employment with S. F. Bowser & Company and Miss Saylor has taken employment in a down town office.

JOIN THE AUTO ENTHUSIASTS.

Two additions were made this week to the owners of automobiles at the plant of S. F. Bowser & Company. The new ones are E. B. French, of the sales department, who gets his auto Saturday, and R. G. Schulz, head of the export department, who will receive his machine next week.

TO MT. VERNON ON BUSINESS.

B. F. Sarver, foreman of the boiler department of the Pennsylvania shops, left this morning for Mt. Vernon, O., on business for the company. Mt. Vernon is the home of the chief shops of the Cleveland, Akron and Cincinnati branch of the Central Pennsylvania system.

PETER SCHEID VERY SICK.

Peter J. Scheid, foreman of the Pennsylvania car machine shop, who was taken ill at the shop last Monday, is now seriously sick at his home. Mr. Scheid has suffered three or four similar attacks during the past year, but the present one is the worst.

TRAIN KILLED A HORSE.

Eastbound Pennsylvania passenger train No. 24 struck and killed a horse in Bucyrus, Ohio, at 3:35 o'clock this morning. The accident occurred between street crossings and was due to the horse straying on the company's right-of-way.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. F. Sonne reported for work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning. He was injured last Monday.

Nickel Plate Brakeman D. H. Carey is in Hillsdale, Mich., spending a few days with his wife and children, who reside there.

Nickel Plate Brakeman B. H. Hire has returned to work on the road after an absence on account of sickness in his family.

Machinist Frank Conners, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, left this morning for Rome City, where he will spend three or four days fishing.

P. J. Murphy, Grand Rapids and Indiana fireman, who had a hand injured three months ago, has recovered and reported for work on the road.

C. V. Seibold, of the machine shop, and E. J. Wright, of the boiler shop of the Pennsylvania, have recovered from slight injuries and resumed work.

Peter Wiesmer, a boilermaker, resigned a position at the Pennsylvania shops yesterday. He will go to Dayton, O., to engage in structural steel work.

C. B. Watterson, A. W. Hans, A. G. Heine, M. H. Ehrman, C. H. Geise, A. V. Zuber, C. E. Kidd and F. I. Brown, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

C. G. McElroy of Springfield, Ill., inspector of accounts for the Wabash, was in the city today on business connected with his office.

The Nickel Plate handled 900 immigrants, bound for the western states, today. The foreigners were turned over to the Nickel Plate by the West Shore at Buffalo.

After fishing and incidentally visiting relatives at Atwood, Ind., for two weeks, Engineer H. Yarman resumed his duties on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road this morning.

F. W. Ranney and L. J. Schmidt, who were off duty on account of injured hands, reported for work at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. Mr. Ranney was hurt ten days ago.

John F. Kline, an inspector of electrical machinery for the United States government, left this morning for his home in Milwaukee. He was in Fort Wayne several days, inspecting some machinery built at the Fort Wayne Electric works for the government.

The Wabash is conducting some tests of tractive power of locomotives between Peru and Decatur, to determine the proper tonnage for each class of locomotive. One of the new freight locomotives made the trip with 1,750 tons, getting up the Logan hill, the worst grade between Toledo and St. Louis, without much difficulty.

Charles Sliter, of Bellevue, a passenger brakeman running on the Nickel Plate between Bellevue and Chicago, and Miss Loretta Wagner, of Tiffin, O., were married yesterday morning and are now east on a wedding trip. The groom is the son of the late Engineer Sliter and is quite well known to all of the trainmen on this division of the road.

The Herman Tapp Construction company, which has the contract for excavating and putting in the abutments for the Pennsylvania at the Harrison street subway, commenced pouring the concrete yesterday afternoon. The excavation under the tracks is nearly completed. The Wabash has not commenced excavating for the subway, probably intending to do the work in connection with the excavation for the new depot.

The first regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit association of the Fort Wayne Electric works' employes since the election and installation of the officers will be held this evening. One of the most important subjects to be discussed will be the annual excursion, which for several years has been next to the annual excursion of the Pennsylvania employes in point of excursionists. Cedar Point has been the favorite excursion point, but the choice is always left to a vote and it may fall upon some other resort this year.

A public pedro party will be given Friday afternoon at the Star theater hall under the auspices of the Knights and Ladies of Security No. 1427.

NOVEL MASSAGE CREAM.

Perfect Skin Food That Removes Wrinkles and Clears Complexion.

The most delicate skin will quickly respond to the soothing and tonic effects of Hokara and when this pure skin cream is used, pimples are soon a thing of the past.

As a massage cream or after shaving it is unequaled, removing all irritations, and making the skin soft and velvety.

Apply a little to the hands or face after washing and surprise yourself with the dead skin that comes off.

Hokara is the only antiseptic massage cream, and pimples, eczema and all skin blemishes soon disappear when it is used.

Although far superior to the ordinary massage creams and sold on a guarantee of "best you ever used or money back," yet the price is a trifle, only 25c for a liberal jar; larger size 50c.

WHITE MAN OR ASIATIC—WHICH? IS QUESTION WEST MUST ANSWER, SAYS LABOR COMMISSIONER M'LAUGHLIN.

John P. McLaughlin, state labor commissioner of California, who declares that if the vast agricultural domain lying west of the Rocky mountains is to be preserved for the white race, that legislation against the Japanese is absolutely necessary inset pictures of a couple of future citizens, Japanese children, photographed in one of the many "Little Tokyo" settlements in western cities.

San Francisco, Cal., May 1.—"If the west is to be preserved for the white race, then we must legislate against the Japanese."

John P. McLaghlin isn't an alarmist. He isn't a jingo. He is a mighty intelligent man who has worked himself up from the working class to a position of honor and trust in California. He is state labor commissioner, and it is his duty to enforce the laws for the protection of the working class. His viewpoint is that of the 95 per cent who labor for a living and not that of the other 5 per cent who live off what the 95 per cent produce.

So if John P. McLaughlin declares that it is necessary to legislate against the Jap in order to preserve this great western empire—the great agricultural domain west of the Rocky mountains—he does so from a knowledge of facts which bear out his statements.

"The Japanese situation is a growing evil easier to curb now than later. In the anti-alien land bill that is now before the California legislature, the problem that seems to be confronting the legislators is not whether the measure is going to be a good law, but whether it is going to hurt the world's fair in 1916," says McLaughlin.

"The farmers assert that if the legislature doesn't pass the anti-alien land act at this session, that they will do some legislating by means of the initiative and referendum.

"The world's fair people have intimated that if this bill goes into effect that Japan will refuse to exhibit, and they claim that only because Japan is exhibiting that England, Germany and other great nations are planning exhibits at the exposition.

"The farmers answer this argument by maintaining that the passing of this legislation is of greater moment than the fair and they say that they are going to put it over regardless of its effect upon the exposition.

"When Mr. Jap first came to this coast he always willingly accepted the farmer's terms; now he has obtained such a monopoly of the state's agriculture that he dictates terms to the farmer—and Mr. Farmer has to accept them, too.

"Wherever Mr. Jap gets control he drives out the white man entirely. Williams, who represented the farmers in their argument for the anti-alien bill before the legislature, said that in Elk Grove, a California town of several hundred inhabitants, that there is only one white man in business; the rest are Japanese. He also raised the argument that the intermingling of the races is to be feared. There have been numerous cases of this throughout the state and generally they have ended disastrously, sometimes tragically, in the most appalling and brutal murders.

"It is impossible to estimate how much land the Japanese control in California, because most of it is held by unrecorded leases. Some unauthoritative estimates place it at 400,000 acres, but this is only the wildest kind of a guess. However, it is known that Geo. L. Shima, a Jap, controls the potato industry and has become a millionaire through his monopoly.

"The Japanese who leave this country for their native land now do so as non-immigrants. This does not bar them from the right to come back should they decide to return at some future time. In former times they used to go back as they came—as immigrants; this only serves to show how wiley the Jap is getting.

"If the Japanese are able to control the Philippines and the Hawaiian islands, as it is reported they do, why can they not in time control the vast agricultural domain of the west, extending from the Rocky mountains to the Pacific ocean?"

NEW LAWS ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Governor Ralston Issues Proclamation on the 1913 Enactments.

MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Indianapolis, May 1.—The 360 laws passed by the recent general assembly, with a few exceptions, are now in force.

Governor Ralston issued a proclamation yesterday afternoon declaring the laws in effect, after Lew G. Ellingham, secretary of state, had reported to him that he had received certificates from each of the ninety-two county clerks showing that they had distributed the books containing the acts. The last receipt, which was from the Franklin county clerk, was delivered by mail to the secretary of state at 2:25 o'clock. The proclamation declares the laws to have been in effect since that hour.

Herman L. Conter, assistant secretary of state, had used the long distance telephone the last two or three days in urging county clerks to send in receipts without delay in order to make possible the issuance of the governor's proclamation before May 1, the date fixed by the statute for the new public utilities act to go into effect.

A legal question involving the validity of the utilities act might have been raised if the proclamation had been delayed until after the time fixed by the law for this act to become effective. Two years ago the acts of the general assembly went into effect April 21, but 20 per cent. more laws were passed during the recent session and this required longer time for the printing.

Added to State Board.

A step toward putting the new vocational education law into effect was taken yesterday when Governor Ralston, in compliance with the new act, added three members to the state board of education. He made a fourth appointment in naming a successor for a board member whose term ends today. The three persons appointed under the vocational act, increasing the board members to thirteen are:

Pettis A. Reid, democrat, wire fence manufacturer at Richmond; term four years.

Henry G. Brown, superintendent Lebanon city schools; term three years.

William Dobson, democrat, secretary of the Bricklayers', Masons' and Plasterers' International Union of America, with headquarters in Indianapolis; term two years.

Manford Livengood, of Veedersburg, superintendent of the Fountain county schools, becomes a member of the state board as the successor of Jesse Webb, superintendent of the Johnson county schools, whose term of four years ends today. Mr. Livergood's term is for four years.

In naming Reid, Brown and Dobson the governor fulfilled the requirements of the vocational act, which called for the appointment of "three citizens actively interested in and of known sympathy with vocational education, one of whom shall be a representative of employes and one of employers."

John K. Drebert, who resides seven miles south of the city, is critically ill at his home as the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomei This Disease May Become Serious.

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought.

If you have catarrh, usually indicated by sniffling, stopped-up head, droppings in throat, and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

Do not allow the dangerous germs which may be breathed into the throat and lungs to begin their work of destruction.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing Hyomei. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled, and healing and vitalizing the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs so as to render catarrh and all other germ infections no longer possible.

The unusual way in which Hyomei is sold by druggists is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment, and should dispel all doubts as to its curative properties. They are authorized to refund the purchase price to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit so you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

nations. Recently six of these—Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Japan and America—combined their forces in China, under command of a German general, for a specific purpose, which was successfully accomplished.

"Three or four leading peace nations combined, constituting, as they would, an overwhelming force, unbroken peace would almost certainly be ensured, for to break it would be folly. If ever it were broken, however, it would be well before resorting to force for the peace-preserving nations to first proclaim non-intercourse with the offender, no loans, no exchange of products, no military or naval supplies—above all, no mails—this would serve as a solemn warning and probably prove effective, but if not, then as a last resort force should be used. This plan seems the easiest and speediest mode of attaining international peace.

"Recently world peace was upon the eve of victory. A treaty of peace was signed by Britain, France and our government which would have prevented war between civilized powers, because Germany would have joined us, as its ambassador intimated. A joint remonstrance against war by these four powers would have given any powers threatening war just a gentle intimation that they were expected to follow the example of those who had abolished war and who had interests in the preservation of peace which could not be and would not be overlooked, and peaceful adjustment would be certain.

"Why this treaty failed to receive the support of the senate need not be here dwelt upon. Suffice it to say the fault was not altogether that of the senate—sometimes a blunder is said to be worse than a crime. Well, some one blundered. Looking backward, the error is now clearly seen, and we venture to predict that the present administration will deal successfully with this vital question.

"This sole remaining task accomplished, it will rank highest of all services ever performed by man to man, because its influence will be world wide and the president will take rank above all men as the greatest world benefactor who has ever lived; because he will have laid the ax to the root of the tree and banished man-killing from the civilized world. All the good done by any or all reformers pales into insignificance compared with the banishment of this appalling crime of crimes. The president has stood and still stands absolutely for international peace under the reign of law."

Session Is Opened.

The fourth American Peace Congress began a three days' session here this morning with delegates present from all parts of the country.

Benjamin F. Trueblood, secretary of the American Peace society, spoke on "The Present Demands of the Peace Movement."

"We must urge," he said, "that all controversies not susceptible of adjustment by direct negotiation be submitted to the court of arbitration at The Hague or other tribunals which it may be found advisable to create. We have heard too much about 'national honor' and 'vital interests' and hair-splitting distinctions between justifiable and non-justifiable disputes. Are we not trying to conceal a hankering after war and pillage every time we use one of these vague and indefinable terms? There are no unarbitral controversies in our day between nations whose independence mutually is recognized."

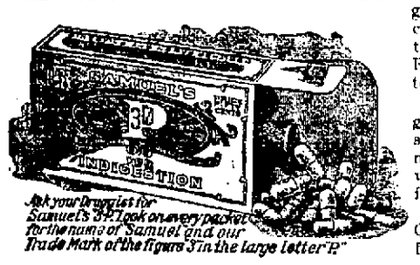
It just turns your whole world upside down, makes you feel blue, downcast, despondent and unfit for pleasure or business. If you eat what you crave you have a sour stomach, heartburn, feel bloated, uncomfortable, full of misery—indigestion; you often have sleepless nights, are nervous and irritable, lack interest in the things in which you formerly took pleasure.

You, too, will praise "3-P" like Mr. J. F. Townsend, a prominent wholesale merchant, of Columbus, Ohio, who says: "Your '3-P' has done me a great deal of good. I would hate to think I could not get them as they are certainly all you claim for them."

Now, this very day, stop dieting and starving your already weakened system. Thousands have found how needless it is to have a bad stomach by getting at the drug store a 25-cent package of this prescription after formula of a famous French specialist, put up in easy-to-take, gelatin capsules.



Ask your Druggist for Samuel's 3-P. Look on every packet for the name of Samuel and our Trade Mark of the figure 3 in the large letter "P"

MOST PERFECT FOOT IN WORLD LOSES ITS OWNER HER HUSBAND BECAUSE PAPERS PRINTED PICTURES OF HER PEDAL EXTEMITY.

BY LAURA GILAM.

Chicago, May 1.—"The foot of Mrs. Clara Smith Houston is nine inches long and ten inches around the instep. Its length is exactly one-seventh of her height in accordance with the Greek rule of sculpture. It is the most perfect foot in existence."

This is the resolution which was unanimously adopted by the International Association of Chiropodists held here recently and which at first brought great joy to Mrs. Houston't heart, but which has since brought a great deal more sorrow. Never having seen a "perfect foot" nor one that was even pretty, indeed, I went to see this one and to hear incidentally how it brought much unhappiness to its owner simply because of its marvelous beauty!

"The story is very easily told," said little Mrs. Houston to me as she welcomed me into her little cottage. "It is just the story of jealousy—of a husband who was jealous of even feet! Jealous of them because he thought that the little time I gave to them I ought to be giving to him!

"One day the papers printed the fact that the chiropodists had just pronounced my foot the perfect one of the world. The next day he sent me this telegram from a nearby city where he was visiting:

"'Friend Wife Congratulations on putting your best foot forward. Nothing like notoriety, no matter how cheap. Send your picture to the pink journals and call on me for cash with which to advertise yourself further. Your husband.'

"Imagine that! I, a bride of five months and only 22 years old, and he an old man from whom I expected the best and kindest of treatment. It was just more than I could stand and I decided to leave him at once.

"I decided that if a man was so jealous that he would not even allow me to boast of a perfect foot and to pay some attention to its care I had best give him up and all the luxuries with which he had provided me—town and country house, horses, automobiles, servants and what not. Everything except the one thing—happiness.

"So that's how my perfect foot lost me my husband."

THIS JAPANESE IS POTATO KING

Became a Millionaire in Sixteen Years from Tuber Crop.

WORKED 1910 CORNER

San Francisco, Cal., May 1.—George Shima is a Japanese and the "Potato King" of the west. He "cornered" the potato market in 1910 and made a fortune.

He is a millionaire and undoubtedly the wealthiest and probably the most popular Japanese in America, bith with his own countrymen and with the Americans. He is an agricultural expert and an authority on American business methods.

Personally, George Shima is a man of dignity, culture and magnetic personality. He speaks English with scarcely any accent.

There is nothing so sacred to him as his word. Once he has given it to you, it will never be broken. He is a tireless worker and only by his bulldog determination has he made a success of his career. He has faced failure after failure in which his money has been swept away, his time lost and his years of hard work undone.

Shima came to California in 1899. He had a thousand dollars in cash and a willingness to work and learn coupled with ability for absorbing knowledge. For three years he watched the Americans, Chinese and Italians grow potatoes. Worked beside them and learned their ways, then started out for himself.

The first year he lost his thousand dollars and the wage he had saved. But he kept right on and by 1906 he had managed to lose everything. Then the tide turned.

In 1907 George Shima made his first profits. Since then he has had a few bad years, but his money market has been continually rising. In 1910 he made a fortune.

Today George Shima is rated a millionaire and controls 5,000 acres of California land either by ownership or leases, and he is a Jap. He is unnaturalized, an alien unable to take any interest, other than passing interest, in the government; a man whose sole purpose can be nothing other than to increase his own wealth, George Shima stands above all others a distinctive individual of the west. He is a power. An agricultural magnate. A force to be feared. Why?

Because he shows convincingly and conclusively to what power the Japanese has risen in the west. He typifies the Japanese situation on the Pacific coast. He is the most remarkable result of a condition which permitted these little brown men to encroach upon the Pacific coast.

George Shima controls 5,000 acres of the best agricultural land in California. Supposing a couple of hundred other George Shimas drift into this country with the stream of Japanese immigrants that pours in every year, and get control of 5,000 acres of perfectly good agricultural land, then what?

"The best minds of this country are not giving their attention to agriculture," says Shima.

Is it possible that this is one of the reasons that the Jap is able to gradually get a monopoly of the stranglehold variety on our agricultural resources?

John P. McLaughlin, commissioner of labor in California, says: "If the west isto be preserved for the white race, then we must legislate against the Jap."

Shima, educated and intelligent Japanese, is a living example that McLaughlin is right.

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN FORT WAYNE.

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, the German appendicitis remedy. H. W. Meinzen states that this simple remedy antiseptic izes the digestive system and draws off the impurities so thoroughly that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. H. W. Meinzen, Druggist, Cor. Maumee and Univ.—Adv.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "Of course I recommend Foley Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." Dreier Drug Co.

36 LETTERS IN HIS NAME.

Texas Man Run Alphabet Race as to Length of Appellation.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 1.—The Fort worth chamber of commerce has issued a challenge to the entire United States to produce a man with more letters in his name than one of its loyal citizens. Mr. Gust Pappoulheborourpukoumuntryouwtopoles is the gentleman in question and he hails from the southern part of Russia, having come to this city to work as a laborer at a local packing plant. The packing houses of this city employ 4,000 laborers and most of them are of foreign extraction, known in packing house society as "Bohunks." No effort is made b the management of the packing plants to carry the foreign names on their pay rolls. They simply number them until their interpreter can find time to translate their names into "common United States." Practically every nation on the globe is represented in the packing house colony in this city and their curious names are the despair of the ward politician.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of the gravest nature. Croup may come on suddenly in the night, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, and severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deep-seated racking cough, and heals inflamed membranes. It does not constipate and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Dreier Drug Co.

WILL FAST FOR TWENTY DAYS.

Inmate of Soldiers' Home Tries Cure for Indigestion.

Marion, Ind., May 1.—Frederick E. Brown, 70 years old and a member of the National military home, has entered upon a twenty-day fast and says he intends walking four or five miles every day during his fast, which he will undergo as a cure for indigestion.

THIS INTERESTS EVERY WOMAN.

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for their kidneys and bladder, they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. You cannot get better purer medicine for headache, weary dragged out feeling, aching bones, irregular kidney and bladder action and nervousness due to kidney troubles. Try them. They are tonic action, quick in results. Dreier Drug Co.

UNION WORKMEN GET INCREASES

New Wage Scale Contracts Go Into Effect in Fort Wayne.

UNION MEN PLEASED

Several hundred union workmen in Fort Wayne are enjoying increased salaries today as a result of the new wage scales which went into effect this morning. Among them are the Carpenters' and Joiners' union, No. 232; the Sheet Metal Workers, No. 156, and the Bricklayers' union. Increases have been granted without serious labor trouble and the union men are well pleased as a result.

The carpenters will now receive 45 cents per hour, an increase of 5 cents, and the sheet metal works also get an increase of the same amount. The sheet metal workers' scale has a wide scope, however, and wages will range from 40 to 47½ cents per hour. The bricklayers are to receive 65 cents per hour. Their contract stands for two years.

Local labor leaders say that they do not anticipate any trouble in labor circles in Fort Wayne this year.

Prominent Lafayette Lawyer is in Critical Condition.

Lafayette, Ind., May 1.—Daniel W. Simms, of the law firm of Stewart Patte and Simms, one of the best known lawyers in the city, who was prominently identified with the law suit growing out of Governor Marshall's proposed constitution, was stricken with vertigo today in the superior court room, where he was participating in a legal conest involving the Lafayette Life Insurance company of which he is general counsel. He was taken to his home in a serious condition, over which there was expressed considerable alarm.

WILL HOLD ALOOF FOR THE PRESENT

Powers Will Not Now Attempt to Coerce the Montenegrins.

SEEK A NEW WAY OUT

London, May 1.—The powers will not take steps to coerce Montenegro for the present. The ambassadors at their meeting this afternoon came to the conclusion that in view of the conciliatory attitude shown by Monenegro, it was unnecessary to proceed with immediate measures of coercion.

A proposal that the Montenegrin seaports of Antivari and Dulcigno shall be occupied by a joint international force of Austrian, Italian and British troops as a frontier demonstration to King Nicholas that the powers are resolved to carry out their decision in regard to Scutari was made at today's meeting of the ambassadors in London. Should Austria-Hungary accept this middle course, its adoption would allow time for further pressure on Montenegro and for an arrangement to provide her with compensation of some kind.

The reply of Monenegro to the demand of Europe for the evacuation of Scutari, was received today by the powers. It is non-committal in character aand keeps the door open for further negotiations. The little kingdom of the Black mountains tells its big neighbors that it has the greatest deference for them and declares the capture of Scutari to be in no way a defiance of their announced decision to give the former Turkish fortress to Albania. At the same time Montenegro suggests that there is room for discussion and reserves the right of bringing up the question of Scutari in the course of the peace negotiations.

In the meantime arrangements are in progress for the definite conclusion of peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey. The European powers have requested the respective governments to appoint plenipotentiaries who, on meeting in London, will be invited to sign a draft of the preliminaries which the powers have already drawn up. This course has been adopted in order to prevent prolonged discussion.

PURDUE HAS "CIRCUS DAY."

New Stunt Supplants the Abolished "Mechanics Burning.

Lafayette, Ind., May 1.—Purdue university observed "Circus day" today. Classes were suspended and the university community assembled on the campus to take part in the festivities. "Circus day" takes the place of the "mechanics burning," which was abolished last year. Stuart field was transformed into a circus ground, with numerous tents and sideshows. The afternoon program included May-day exercises, given by the girls of the university. The girls gave a number of aesthetic dances and a May-day dance.

Two Men Under Arrest in Chicago For Big Operations.

Chicago, May 1.—Benjamin Brenner and Max Lubin were arrested last night accused by the police of stealing horses worth $20,000 from team owners on the west side. At the police station the two men charged each other with the thefts. Brenner was raced to Mansfield, Ohio, by detectives who say they there learned of Lubin's part in the disposition of the stolen horses. According to the police three car loads of stolen horses which were shipped east have been traced. Ten horses were shipped to Buffalo, on February 8, they assert.

REJECTED LOVER KILLS.

Tina Francisco Is Shot Down in a Doorway at Revere, Mass.

Revere, Mass., May 1.—Tina Francisco, 20 years old, was shot and probably fatally wounded as she came out of her father's house today by David Pishcop, a rejected lover, who immediately committed suicide. Pishcop, armed with a shotgun and a revolver, and carrying a bottle of poison, had stationed himself in an adjoining house. As the girl came down the steps of her home he emptied both barrels of the shotgun into her breast. He then drank poison and shot himself through the head.

MRS. HOBROCK VERY SICK.

J. H. Hobrock, chief shop clerk for the Pennsylvania, received a telegraphic message this morning that Mrs. Hobrock who is in Texas for her health, had suffered a relapse and was quite sick. He left this afternoon for that state. Mrs. Hobrock went to Dallas, Texas, six weeks ago, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Maree Hobrock, to spend several months with relatives. Mr. Hobrock, accompanied them and remained fwith them two weeks, his wife showing improvement when he left for home.

OTHERS WERE TOO CORPULENT.

Anderson, Ind., May 1.—Maxine Bogan, three-year-old daughter of Elmer Bogan and wife owes the fact that she is alive today to Harry Moore's slender figure. Maxine fell into a cistern containing five feet of water; her little playmate gave the alarm and then began a scramble to effect her rescue. But all the men about were too corpulent to enter the small cistern opening. Harry Moore, he of the slender build, came along and the child's mother eagerly implored him to plunge into the cistern. With much shoving Moore finally got into the cistern. He handed the child out, not much the worse for its experience and then waited until the cistern opening was made larger, before he tried to get out.

TWO MEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Three Others Injured When Hotel at Oswego, N. Y., Burns.

Oswego, N. Y., May 1.—Two men were burned to death early today and three fatally injured in a fire which partly destroyed the Healey house, a three story structure of brick and wood. The dead are Nathan Triskey, of Watertown, N. Y., and Cyril Willard, of Oswego, N. Y., who were trapped in their rooms on the top floor. Lake Healey, the proprietor, his sons and daughter, were saved by a policeman, who kicked in the doorr of their bed room.

NEW BOARD IN FIRST MEETING

Indiana Public Utilities Commission Completes Organization.

REILEY IS SECRETARY

Indianapolis, May 1.—The new public utilities commission of Indiana met at the state house today for the first time and organized. Jos. L. Reiley, former secretary of the railroad commission of Indiana, which went out of commission yesterday, was named secretary of the service body at a salary of $3,600 a year. All other employes of the railroad commission are to be retained by the new commission.

Charles Stewart, of Lebanon, Gov. Ralston's home town, was named chief clerk of the commission, the appointment not to take effect until there is need of such an official. The commission adopted the Wisconsin commission's method of procedure and voted to use all the forms and blanks now used in that state.

SUFFRAGE SHOWS GAIN IN STATE

Total of 44 New Branch Leagues Formed During the Past Year.

READY FOR MEETING

Indianapolis, May 1.—When the report of Mrs. G. M. Henderson, secretary of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana, is presented at the second annual convention of the league to be held at the Claypool hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday, it will show a total of fifty branch leagues in existence this year, against six when the convention was held a year ago. This report, however, will give only a slight indication of the growth of the suffrage movement in Indiana during the year, for the league has the names of hundreds of sympathizers with the movement who have not yet seen fit to align themselves with the organization as active members.

It is estimated that there will be at least 250 accredited delegates in attendance from the various branch leagues over the state, and possibly an equal number of sympathizers who are not delegates.

Noted Speakers Coming.

The equal suffrage question will be considered from every angle that may possibly prove an interesting viewpoint. On the program are teachers, writers, business men and professional men and women who by their business and professional experiences are eminently well qualified to discuss in an intelligent manner the topics that have been assigned to them.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, of Chicago, who is to speak Thursday afternoon, has been an active member of the Illinois Bar association for more than twenty-five years, has taken a prominent part in practically all of the public movements for the betterment of social and civic conditions in Chicago and Cook county during that time and is known as the "mother" of the Illinois joint guardianship law.

Will Review Parade.

One of the especially interesting features of the convention is expected to be the address of Mrs. Flora Millspaugh, of Andrson, on the "Washington Parade." Mrs. Millspaugh is a member of several of the more important woman's organizations of the country and is a lecturer of note.

"College Girls' Organizations" will be discussed by Miss Gerda Sebbeloy, of Laporte, a native of Denmark, now in this country for the purpose of studying social settlement work.

"The Man Suffragist," by A. R. Mead, of Greencastle, professor of education at DePauw university, is expected to be a witty companion address to that of Miss Elizabeth Sihler, of Fort Wayne on "Our Friend the Enemy."

Mrs. Mary A. Stubbs, of Richmond, will have something of especial interest to say to the anti-suffrage women under the title of "The Indifferent Sisterhood."

Special Music Arranged.

Dr. James Albert Woodburn, professor of political economy at Indiana university, will tell "Why Indiana Needs a New Constitution." Dr. Woodburn is recognized as an authority in the central west on political and constitutional history and his address is looked forward to as one of the best features of the convention.

Aside from its political significance the banquet at the Claypool hotel Thursday evening is expected to be a social affair of importance. Special music has been prepared by Mrs. Ida Gray Scott of Indianapolis and will be a prominent feature of the dinner. Tickets for the banquet for members of the Franchise league and their friends may be obtained until Thursday noon at the headquarters of the league in the Odd Fellow building. Preparations are being made for the entertainment of 500 persons at the table.

As a special recognition to the league, business houses of the city will decorate with yellow, the color of the league, during the three days of the convention.

MORE LOANS, LESS CASH.

What New Reports From Banks Disclose.

Washington, May 1.—Reports of the condition of national banks in response to the call of the comptroller of the currency on April 4 show a large increase in loans but large losses in cash and deposits as compared with the previous call on February 4. The loans increased $83,067,213; the cash decreased $45,133,495; deposits decreased $16,645,250, but showed a gain since April 18, 1912, of $256,735,956.

The total reserve of the banks on April 4 was $1,475,797,674. $36,220,298 above the amount required by law.

Tea was introduced in England about the middle of the seventeenth century, when it was a grat luxury and fetched from $30 to $50 a pound. Up to about 1885 the greater portion of the tea imported into England came from China; the bulk is now obtained from India and Ceylon, although China tea of good quality is again working its way into favor.

TO GET LEG WITH TAGS.

Railroad Men "Smoke Up" to Help Friend Get Limb.

Herington, Kan., May 1.—Railroad men on two railroads in Kansas are smoking to obtain an artificial leg for Frank Thornberg, a bill clerk for the Rock Island railroad here. Thornberg lost one of his legs some time ago. His friends learned that with 10,000 tobacco tags he can obtain an artificial leg, so now all employes of the Rock Island and the Missouri Pacific, which also runs into Herington, are saving the tags they get with tobacco, and Thornberg now has more than half enough of the tags he needs. Employes on other roads have been asked to send Thornberg tags and in another month he expects to have enough.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WORLD'S CHAMPION B-A-D MAN IS NO MORE

BY WILLIAM C. SHEPHERD.

Paris, May 1.—Lacombe, the worst "bad man" that Paris ever knew, is dead. His life was one long, ghastly playtime, with murder as his chief sport.

For a while in the United States, Tracy, the bandit, was thought to be the worst bad man in the world. But Tracy became a coward and ran away.

Lacombe never ran.

Here's the way he worked:

First, the police would hear that some automobilist in the suburbs had been murdered and his car taken. An hour of terrible suspense would follow, for the police, for they would know that somewhere, soon, a bank would be held up by a quartet of men in the stolen automobile, the bank officials probably murdered and a huge sum stolen.

It was Lacombe's work, they knew.

But how would they get Lacombe?

"I will never run from you," Lacombe told them by mail. "When you catch me I'll kill myself, for I shall never go to jail!"

One man, a former friend of Lacombe, tried to help the police in their effort to get the bandit. The next night there came a rap at this man's door and in walked Lacombe and seated himself, drawing a revolver.

"Undress and get into bed," he ordered the man and the wife. The pair followed instructions. "It's midnight now," said Lacombe. "At 10 in the morning I shall kill you, if not before."

All night Lacombe played with the man and the wife, as a cat plays with a mouse. Now and then he would raise his gun as if to shoot, or he would walk over to the bed and place his gun against the man's head, saying, "You will tell the police on me?"

It was about 9 o'clock in the morning, after he had tortured the pair for nine hours, that he suddenly said:

"Enough of this silly talk."

Whereupon, in the coldest of cold blood, he used one bullet to kill his one-time friend and then walked out into the street.

LACOMBE DRESSED IN NOTHING BUT A BLANKET, WITH HIS GUARD OF THREE POLICEMEN. HE WAS DENIED CLOTHES TO PREVENT HIS USING THEM TO STRANGLE HIMSELF.

Two country-town policemen, whom Lacombe did not suspect of knowing him, caught him at a country fair, munching peanuts and seeing the sights. He had two revolvers, two dynamite bombs, three knives and four sorts of poison on him!

They got him to the country jail in safety and after several days to the big prison in Paris, for trial.

"You'll never guillotine me," he declared, for the knife instead of the rope is the executioner's tool in France.

One morning while walking in the yard with three guards, Lacombe suddenly drew himself, like a cat, to a low roof. From here he passed to a higher one and, before his guards could get him he was sitting, smiling, on a roof thirty feet above the stone pavements. He tore tiles from the roof to throw at those who tried to follow him. "I won't come down until you fetch my lawyer," he declared. The lawyer came. Meantim the papers of Paris got out extra editions, telling of Lacombe's escape.

The lawyer came and climbed up near Lacombe. He pleaded with him to come down. "At 11:30 by that clock, I will come down on my neck," Lacombe said. The lawyer and his prisoner talked for three-quarters of an hour, while hundreds of persons looked on and all Paris thrilled with the excitement of the thing.

At last the prison clock pointed to 11:30.

"Goodby," shouted Lacombe. He hurled himself into the air and like a diver, struck the pavement head first.

The jail prisoners, who had heard and seen, all shouted "Vive Lacombe," as he died.

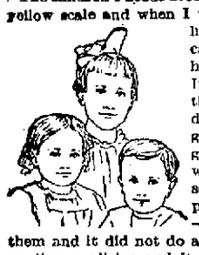
DANDRUFF SCALED AND SHOWED PLAINLY

Children's Heads Broke Out with Thick Yellow Scale. Would Bleed. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in 2 Months.

1908 Kemper Lane, Cincinnati, Ohio.—"The children's heads broke out with a thick yellow scale and when I would wash their heads the scale came off and their heads would bleed. It would itch and the hair just seemed dead and did not grow and came out gradually. There was dandruff which scaled and showed plainly. I used ——— ——— on them and it did not do any good. I used another medicine and it was no good. I then tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I first washed their heads good with Cuticura Soap and when dry I used Cuticura Ointment two times a day. I noticed there was relief in just a short while. In two months their heads were completely cured. Their heads look fine and their hair is growing nicely now." (Signed) Mrs. Blanche Collins, June 22, 1912.



Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but no other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough and oily skins, itching, scaly scalps, dry, thin and falling hair, nor do it so economically. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

IS THE OFFICIAL BAKER OF BREAD

College Woman, Long on the Sciences, Teaches Us the System

SAYS IT'S A REAL ART

Washington, May 1.—The federal government has an official bread baker. She is a colored woman with a scientific degree and a reputation as an independent experimental chemist who is devoting all her time and bringing the science of the ages to bear upon the one small task—the baking of a loaf of bread. She is doing this at the solicitation of Uncle Sam, who holds that her's is one of the most important tasks to which he has ever set one of his scientists. For there is not a man, woman or child in all the land who does not regularly eat bread and whose well-being is not affected by the bread he eats.

So has the government assigned to one well-trained woman the task of developing the perfect loaf. She is Miss Hannah Wessling of the department of agriculture. She has been told that all the money and time and assistance and collaboration which a great government can afford is hers in the task. She is asked to set the standard for the bread of a nation and, after years of endeavor, she believes that she has accomplished her purpose.

Uncle Sam gave this young woman a model kitchen at the bureau of chemistry, gave her free scope as to how much material she might waste and told her in that brusque Yankee way of his, to go ahead and beat the world in bread-making.

She is a sunny-haired, blue-eyed college girl who is so modest about her work that she does not wish her name used in telling of it. Although very young, Miss Wessling is the holder of imposing degrees from the University of Cincinnati and one of the most enterprising experimental chemists in the department of agriculture. She has been working for years on the baking of bread along scientific lines and has now evolved a recipe which she considers public property and invites all the world to use. Here is the recipe for the model bread:

Take 12 ounces of flour, 1-3 of an ounce of sugar, 1-3 of an ounce of compressed yeast and 1-6 of an ounce of salt and about 7 fluid ounces of lukewarm water. First, a ferment is made of a little lukewarm water and the yeast, to which is added the sugar and salt and six fluid ounces of water. Let this ferment stand in a temperature of 86 degrees Fahrenheit for an hour. At the end of that time mix flour and yeast ferment, using wooden spatula instead of spoon or hands, and set in the rising closet or in a temperature of 200 to 220 degrees for 20 minutes. Then take out and add sufficient lukewarm water to make dough of right consistency. Set back in same temperature for another 20 minutes, then fold in the hands, (not on the board), slightly greased, 14 times. Set back again for another 20 minutes and fold again nine times, and after another 20 minutes' period mold in the hands and place in greased and slightly warmed tins. It has been discovered by careful experiment that the best loaf is obtained when the dough is allowed to rise to three times its volume in the pan. Bake 20 minutes in an oven heated at 200 to 220 C. or about 400 to 425 degrees Fahrenheit.

ADONISES OR SAMPSONS?

Many Men Offer Themselves as Attractions for Suffrage Parade.

New York, May 1.—There is no scarcity of Adonises in New York. A call for forty-eight of them to represent the states of the union in the woman suffrage pageant at the Metropolitan opera house on Friday evening has brought scores more volunteers to the front than are needed, to the embarrassment of the women to whom fell the duty of selectiin. Many of the applications from the self-confessed Adoineses, however make it appear they would more easily qualify as Samsons, for they boast of more than two uhndred pounds. Some are more thap scix feet four inches tall, with corresponding chest measurements.

One modestly qualifies his perfection by adding: "Of course, as regards facial appearance, I do not know that I am the type you desire, but if you wish I will call."

REAL AMERICAN MUSIC TO BE PRESERVED, THOUGH ITS PRODUCERS ARE PASSING AWAY.

© 1913 BYRON

BLACKFEET BRAES SINGING THEIR SONGS INTO THE PHONOGRAPH.

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY.

New York, May 1.—The only real American music there is—the songs of Lo—are not to be lost forever along with the dying redskinned race. The most modern appliances of civilization are to be used to conserve forever the national airs of the primitive Americans.

To Goeffrey O'Hara, a New York composer, has been assigned this task. He has just begun his work by taking phonographic records of the ribal songs of the Blackfeet Indians from Glucier National park, Montana.

"It is high time this work was begun," Mr. O'Hara said to me.

"The old Indians—the real Indians—are dying off.

"The new goneration which fills our Indian schools does not appreciate the music and traditions of their race. In recording their music on a phonograph I will not have to urge the older Indians to sing. Song to them is a natural expression of the various occasions of life—the utterance they give to their religious emotions. Every act of their daily life is interpreted in song. Their music is a mosaic of all the passions, the doings, the strivings of their nation. To it we must go for their history. It were unpardonable to let it pass away unrecorded."

I have just watched the first singing of the Indians into receiving instruments high up in a New York loft building. Outside curtains of rain, wind-driven, rustled like forest leaves. In the dim-lit studio, the dozen Blackfeet braves, blanketed, with heads feather-crowned, shifted uneasily as they faced the phonograph horn. Their singing was perfectly true. The songs they chanted in unison was their tribal music transmitted from mouth to mouth through generations. Very solemnly each Indian did his part toward perfecting the records that will be sent to Washington and filed in the deoatrment of the interior.

Presently the phonograph mechanism was reversed so that they might hear the reproduction of their own voices. Instantly the silent braves realized what such records mean in the history of the tribes. And then, unaked, they gathered about the phonograph and chanted the "Song of Home," the best-loved and least familiar of al Blackfeet songs!

Chief Big Top acted as interpreter for me for the Indian singers.

"It is the song my people have sung for ages when leaving home for long trips on the hunting trail or warpath," he said. "They sing it to express the lonely feeling that comes when they are far away from the mountains. The 'Song of Home' makes them think of the campfire—and the teepee—and the children."

Anyhow John had none of these articles this morning, so Judge Mungovan accepted the story. The prisoner was anxious to either get a job or get out of town and he was allowed to do so.

WORK OF RELIEF WILL CONTINUE

Headquarters Will Still Be Open Until Friday Night.

COMMITTEE IS BUSY

After a conference of the people who are participating in the flood relief work in Fort Wayne, it was decided to abandon the plan to close the headquarters and wind up the work last night, and the office maintained with Township Trustee H. E. Branning will remain open for business until Friday night.

In response to complaints filed within the last few days that many homes had been overlooked in the canvass conducted a few weeks ago, Mrs. W. H. Noll declares that there might have been a few flooded homes not visited by the committee, but explains that there are many different reasons that they were missed. Some had not yet returned to their homes, the women were refused admission to some, and others visited and who needed help at the time of the canvass denied their conditions, saying they were able to care for their own wants. If any were missed during the relief work they should have called at the office, for assistance was freely and generously given to all who were found to be in need.

To prevent further complaints and in order to give all another opportunity to make application for assistance, it has been decided to keep the headquarters open two days longer than was originally intended. Mrs. Noll declares that they planned to close last evening because of the fact that too many people who did not really need help were trying to get something for nothing. The committee has earnestly attempted to take care of all the needy and after the close of work will still take care of emergency cases.

Two investigators have been dispatched to work in Lakeside today in an attempt to find other families really in destitute circumstances and needing help.

RECEIPTS ARE LARGE.

Revenue Receipts for the Month Amounted to $33,788.27.

C. M. Blue, deputy revenue collector, has completed his report for the month of April, showing that $33,788.27 has been turned into the government treasury through the sale of revenue stamps in this district. The receipts for the month just closed were $6,858.80 more than the total for the previous month and a gain of $4,707.47 is shown over the corresponding month last year.

The ladies' class of the Turnverein held its regular monthly session this afternoon at Turner's hall, on West Superior street.

DOES NOT PLACE BLAME.

Coroner Exonerates Palmer for Death of Onufry A. Swetz.

Testimony given by witnesses in the inquest conducted Wednesday afternoon by Coroner E. H. Kruse led to the verdict that the death of Onufry A. Swetz was due to accidental causes, and J. B. Palmer is not wholly to blame for the sad affair. Swetz died from paralysis following a scuffle between he and Palmer. Officer Henry Harkenrider and his son-in-law, Edward Boedeker, who witnessed the accident, declared that when Palmer playfully jumped at Swetz, the latter was immediately released, and then said, "Get on my back and I'll carry you home." This Palmer laughingly attempted to do and when the two became overbalanced and fell Swetz was crushed beneath the weight of the larger man.

MEASLES AT ORPHANS' HOME.

Near a Score of the Children There Are Ill—None Seriously.

Fifteen inmates of the Allen County Orphans' Home are ill with measles and the epidemic started soon after the flood. Mrs. Overmeyer, matron of the home, believes that three more cases will develop, and that then the epidemic will have passed. Dr. L. P. Drayer is attending the children and says that all of the children have slight cases of the disease, and there is absolutely no danger of serious illness to the children. It is said that the cases resulted from one baby which was not taken to the church during the flood, but was left at the home of a neighbor. The child developed measles soon after being brought back to the home.

TO ATTEND DEDICATION.

CAME NEAR BEING BORN IN A HEARSE

Cyclone Hurried Infants Thriving in Spite of the Shock.

STORK IN HURRICANE

Omaha, Neb. April 29.—Twenty-five babies came to Omaha on the wings of the Easter cyclone—their arrival having been accelerated by the shock of the tornado. Complete outfits for the infants and their mothers were sent out by the relief committee.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Medlock just missed being born in a hearse. Mrs. Medlock was lying in her unroofed home when a motor hearse went by, returning from a burial in progress when the cyclone came. The driver placed the sick woman in his conveyance and took her to a hospital. Five minutes after her arrival there the boy was ushered into the world.

"Cyclone Bill" is the name of the infant son born to Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Yonld while the storm raged. The boy was born in the Swedish Mission hospital while the tornado was smashing glass in almost every window of that institution.

At the home of Frank Saylor the storm and the stork arrived at practically the same moment, the bird bearing a baby girl in its bill. A young woman grabbed the infant and carried it nearly a mile to a hospital. The father stood over the sick mother and protected her from flying debris. He was bruised and cut, but Mrs. Saylor came out of the affair unharmed.

In fact, physicians say, the god of luck was on the side of the babies born that night, for not a single child of the entire 25 born during the cyclone, or immediately thereafter, received an injury of any kind, and all are doing finely.

I Cure Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic Diseases

Every man that does less than he should do at his desk, in the shop or on the farm, is weak in some way. I have found that the man who cannot accomplish all that he hopes or expects to is often the silent sufferer from some hidden Chronic or Pelvic disease that is slowly but surely undermining his health, usually affecting one or more of the important nerve centers of the body, and as surely unfitting him for competing with his fellow men who are strong and healthy.

These neglected or unknown conditions are usually diseases of the pelvic organs, which reflexly act on the organs of digestion, of elimination and the nervous system, which in turn has its influence on the brain. I have made a study of the nervous system and have perfected methods that will CURE Pelvic Diseases. I will give you a searching and thorough examination and explain to you the true nature of your trouble.

Hundreds of people in and about Fort Wayne who have taken advantage of my treatment are now satisfied and are enjoying the blessings of health. Many of these I have cured after they had vainly sought relief at the famous health resorts and spent much hard-earned cash in their efforts to get well.

Every day competition is getting more keen and the natural and inevitable result is that the weak must fall behind and watch those who are strong and healthy forge to the front.

I have spent years in the study and treatment of Pelvic, Nervous and Chronic Diseases and have perfected methods which will not only positively and permanently cure these chronic and deep-seated diseases, but will restore to a normal and healthy condition the broken-down and devitalized organs.

Think it over and consider if you can afford as a matter of business to neglect yourself and risk FAILURE because you are handicapped by disease.

Many a man has been forced to abandon a successful career because of some PELVIC or CHRONIC disease, which has insidiously wrecked his nervous system and unfitted him for performing the duties which he otherwise would have been able to perform.

It makes no difference how long you have been afflicted, if I accept your case I will positively cure you.

I have made it an invariable rule to accept no cases for treatment that I cannot cure. While this, of course, compels me to refuse to treat quite a good many cases which come to me, it has established a confidence in the public that when I accept a case for treatment I will accomplish a cure. This is the reason my business has grown to such remarkable proportions; that I have, beyond question, the largest business of my kind in the state, and hundreds of satisfied patients whom I have cured are ample evidence of my ability to successfully treat these chronic and deep-seated diseases in which the ordinary methods have failed.

I HAVE NO TIME TO WASTE ON INCURABLE DISEASES.

BLOOD POISON—Only the most advanced methods are used by me in the treatment of Blood Poison and kindred diseases.

I use serums and vegetable drugs, and by their use I am able to rid the body of the poisons in about half of the time necessary by the old methods. Besides Mercury and mineral poisons often ruin a man and leave him in a decidedly worse condition than before he began the treatment.

ECZEMA and other skin diseases are quickly and permanently cured.

RHEUMATISM, ARTHRITIS, ANAEMIA, ETC.—These have been a bugbear to the physician and a source of disappointment to the patient, who has constantly endeavored, for years, to rid himself of the misery, suffering and annoyance occasioned by these dreaded diseases; all to no avail.

It pleases me greatly, to announce to the public that by constant effort and great expense, I have at last found a treatment, which, introduced directly into the blood stream itself, penetrates every tissue of the body, comes into direct contact with every living cell, increases the blood corpuscles, eliminates or destroys the poisons or toxins and by its reconstructive action produces results that are positively marvelous.

There is no annoyance occasioned by taking nauseating medicines, no inconvenience. You are almost certain to get results in one dose, and six to eight doses usually cure.

OTHER TREAT ,BUT I CURE

I Repeat, No Man Can Afford to Run the Risk of Failure Because of Being Handicapped by Disease—Read This.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the direct result of Chronic or Imperfectly treated PELVIC DISEASES, such as VARICOCELE, PILES, FISTULA, STRICTURE, etc. I not only remove the cause, but many years of experience in the treatment of nervous and pelvic diseases enable me by special methods to revitalize the entire nervous system and to restore to perfect health nearly all sufferers from NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and VITAL WEAKNESS.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—This may result from a number of causes. The constant jarring and vibration of trains and trolley cars are a very potent cause. Bicycle riding and the use of riding implements on the farm are factors in producing this disease. In fact, the causes are so many and varied that fully 75 per cent of all adults are afflicted to a greater or less extent by this disease. The disease is so little understood, and as one of the principal symptoms is a pain in the back, it is usually called kidney trouble, and treated with local applications or sedatives, which can do no possible good whatever. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure about 90 per cent of all cases.

VARICOCELE—I cure Varicocele in a few days' or weeks' time without the use of the knife.

STRICTURE—I readily remove stricture by my solvent method without the use of instruments.

PILES, FISTULA, ETC., cured without detention from business and without the use of the knife.

RUPTURES—I cure ruptures in a few treatments without the use of the knife and without pain or detention from business.

Fully one-half of these cases that are operated upon result in partial or complete failure. One hundred per cent of those I have treated have proven successful.

Think of it, can you afford to run the risk of an operation when a more successful method may be had? And without the consequent suffering and detention in the hospital, and at the same time you are able to go about your usual work.

The wonderful growth of my business and the unprecedented success I have had in treating those chronic and deep-seated diseases is due to a number of causes.

Clean advertising and clean business methods naturally bring to me an intelligent and self-respecting class of people.

I have always made it a rule never to put into my advertising anything that might be deemed vulgar or offensive by the most critical.

I have made it a point never to accept any case for treatment that I thought incurable.

I always give every one a thorough and systematic examination and endeavor to find the exact condition before I had begun treatment. I then treat the diseases instead of the symptoms.

I treat only a few diseases and endeavor to thoroughly understand every one of them, instead of attempting to treat several hundred, which naturally would make it impossible to give more than a superficial study to each one.

Is it any wonder, then, why I have been so phenomenally successful?

As to my responsibility, ask the banks or look me up in the commercial agencies.

All I ask is a fair chance and I will give you the cure you have paid others for.

Dr. W. E. Hartman, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dear Sir—I wish to certify that after your treatment for hemorrhoids, with which I had been afflicted for 4 years, I have never been bothered in the least by a recurrance of said trouble. It has been three and a half years since you cured me, and I cheerfully recommend your services to all who may be in need of same.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. A. L. GOLDSMITH.

To Whom It May Concern—This is to certify that I have been treated by Dr. W. E. Hardman for prostatic inflamation, stricture and fistula; that he has cured me perfectly and I am thoroughly satisfied. I have been examined and treated by a number of physicians and specialists, who did me no good whatever and gave up my case as incurable, stating that my only hope lay in an operation and even that would not promise cure. I have been told that my condition was one of the worst ever encountered and practically incurable. I cannot recommend Dr. Hardman too highly.

(Signed) E. L. WATSON, Fort Wayne, Ind.

These letters are taken at random from many which I have on file at my office, and everybody who is interested in obtaining a cure is welcome to call and examine the same. I have letters from some of the best people in and about Fort Wayne who are glad to show their appreciation of my services and their gratitude to me for having cured them.

Dr. W. E. Hardman, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dear Doctor—I am writing you this letter of testimonial to let you know that since you treated me for isula I have had no recurrence of the same, that I consider myself entirely cured and desire to thank you for having cured me. I have been afflicted with fistula for over a year before I came to you. Your treatment lasted for a little over three months, and at no time was I disabled from doing my work. If this letter will be of any benefit in guiding some sufferer to you for treatment, I am sure that the results they will get will more than please them as they have me.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, May 1.—Because the greater part of wheat delivered today on May contracts—1,895,000 bushels—went into strong hands that option showed strength. May opened ½c to ⅝c off at 91½c to 91⅝c and advanced to 92¾c. July started at ⅛c to ⅜@½c off at 91⅞@92c to 92½c but in sympathy with May firmed up to 92⅝c.

The close was weak for May at 91⅜c, a net loss of ⅝c, and steady for July at 91⅜c, a net decline of ⅜c.

Corn advanced; May delivery of 80,000 bushels was mainly scattered. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c off at 56⅞@56c to 56¼c but on fair buying went up to 56¼@56⅜c.

The close was nervous with July ⅛c net lower at 56c.

Influential buying lifted oats. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 34⅝c to 35c and went up to 35¼c. May contract deliveries were 405,000 bushels, mainly scattered.

Better prices at the yards helped provisions. A net advance of 2½c to 5c was scored. July opening: Pork, $19.65; lard, $10.87½ and ribs, $11.02½@11.05.

WE OWN ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 1.—Dependence on the foreign markets as a barometer of political conditions abroad was impossible today, owing to the holiday at the principal foreign centers. While the home market started lghet, the period of strength was of brief duration and the downward movement was resumed, with semo violence in spots.

High-class stocks sought substantial lower levels, with a sprinkling of low records by investment and non-dividend paying issues.

Bonds were easy. First prices of stocks today showed a majority of gains, although in most cases were small. The stocks displayed strength in first transactions but quickly eased off. Liquidation of some of the recent weak features continued and low prices were recorded. New Haven dropping as much as a point between sales, fell back three points to 103. Illinois Central also touched a new low figure at 113, a decline of a point.

The market closed strong. Bull operators took aggressive action again in the closing hour and lifted prices another peg. Strength permeated all quarters, and stocks which were recently demoralized, such as Rumely, went up in spectacular fashion. In fact the market gave the best exhibition of strength that has been witnessed for a long time.

PUGILIST ASKED TO LEAVE.

McCarty Fails to Set New Fashion for Clothes in New York Hotel.

New York, May 1.—Luther McCarty, who outfought Frank Moran in a bout at the St. Nicholas Athletic club last night, attempted to set a new fashion for street clothes at a prominent Broadway hotel by appearing in his long bathrobe and fighting togs. The management and patrons were surprised when McCarty appeared in the lobbies thus arrayed on his way to the club, and when he returned at midnight in the same fashion with a crowd of 2,000 yelling admirers at his heels he and his chief handler, Joe Jeanette, were requested to give up their suite and leave the hotel. They did so.
